IN OMNIBUS EXCELSIOR

Titan's excellence dates back to the school's opening in 1966. This year's Titans have proudly carried on the tradition of striving to achieve a level of excellence in their many endeavours. Titans have excelled this year at Academic Awards, Community Service, Drama Productions, Music, Sports, Scholarships through to the Zaniness of Lunch Hour Activities. Ainlay's students are fierce competitors and compassionate community helpers. The success that Ainlay achieves is due to the dedication of the students, teachers, support staff, and coaches who aim for excellence in all things that they do.

PROUD TO BE TITANS

Titans take pride in the school's remarkable arts programs, strong academics, hands on CTS courses, and championship sports teams that all combine to make Ainlay a powerhouse to be reckoned with. And since the school's talented students are as diverse as it's programs, it is easy to see why three short years at Ainlay are filled with Titan Pride.

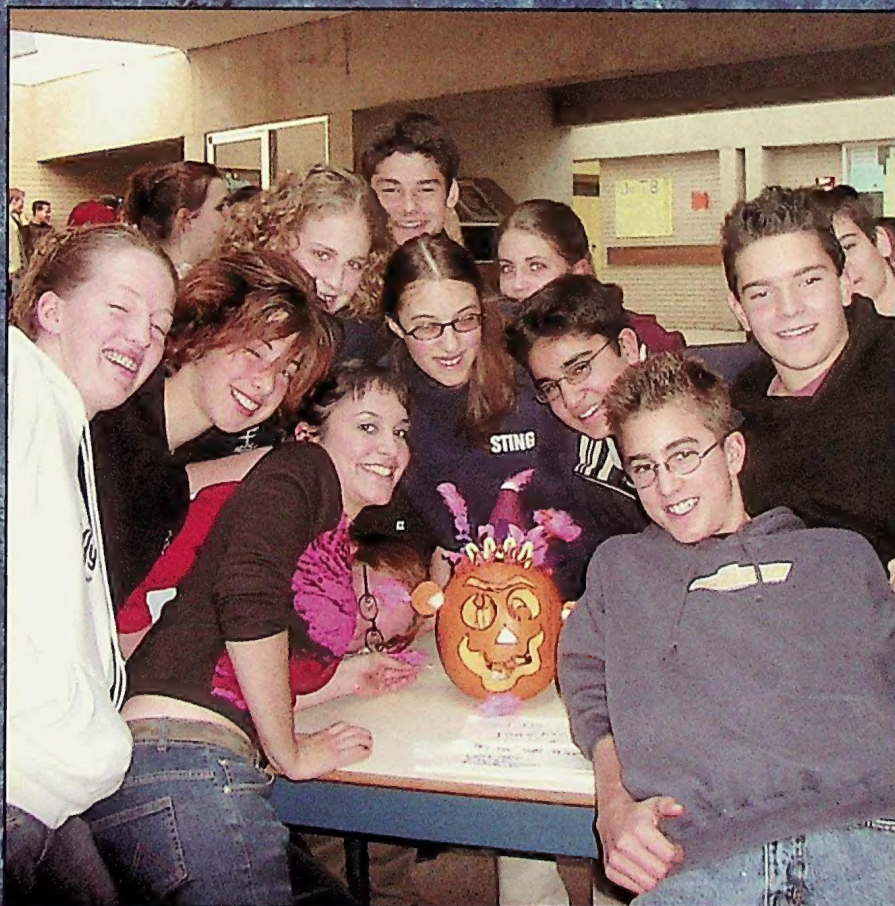

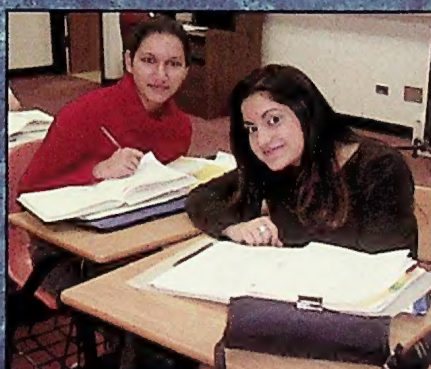

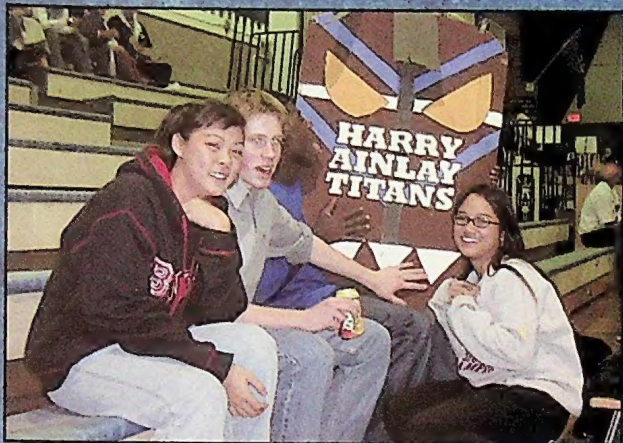

INSIDE AINLAY

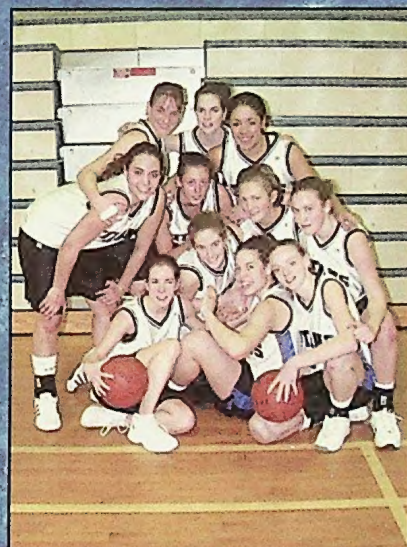

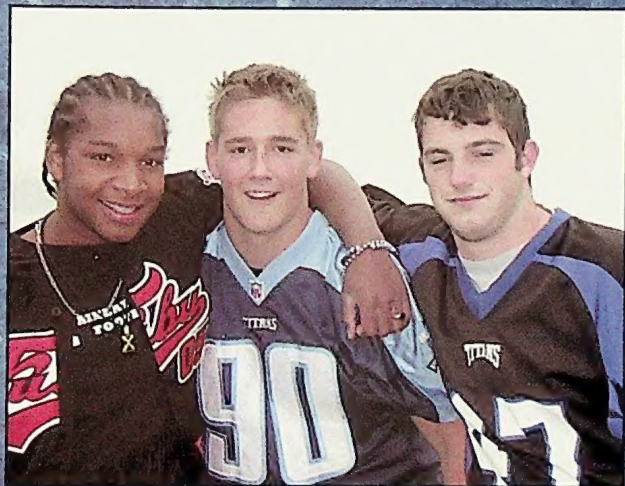

Within these walls 2000 hearts pump life into the brick and mortar of Ainlay. When you put that many Titans together, amazing things happen. Our strength comes from the talented students, teachers, and coaches that breathe Titan life into these walls.

TITAN SPIRIT

From the moment one steps into the school you can feel a magic momentum that flows throughout the building, from the front doors, through the hallways and beyond. Titan spirit is found in classrooms, on the sports fields and shared with the community. Titans take this spirit of success and sharing with them throughout their lives.

STUDENT LIFE

Titans take their studies seriously and work hard to achieve high marks. At lunch hour students play hard visiting with friends, catching up on the latest gossip, playing intramural sports or, of course, attending Ainlay events. The many activities of the student union keep the Titan momentum going and ease the stress of academic workloads. We work hard, we play hard, and we enjoy our lives to the limit.

AINLAY STYLE

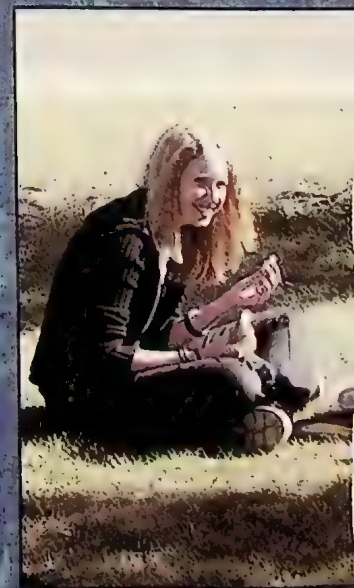

What is it that gives Ainlay such a distinctive style?
People, clothes, hairstyles, attitudes, character, spirit ...? Whatever it is, it is unique, appealing and desirable.

You Go, Ainlay!!

TIMELESS — FRIENDSHIPS

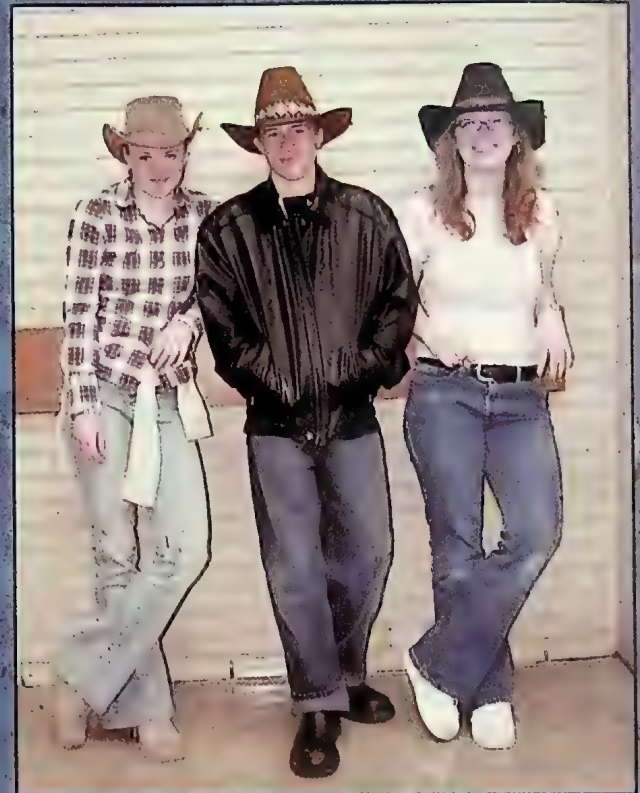

One of the most important aspects of the three short years that make up the high school experience is the opportunity to get to know a diverse range of people with an equally diverse range of interests. Working together at Ainlay, we build friendships that will be cherished for a lifetime.

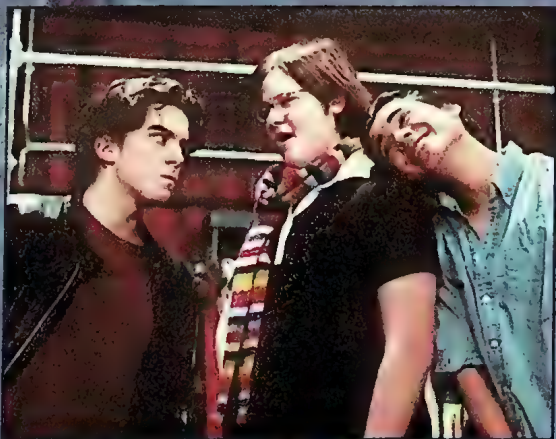

FOREVER TITANS

The Ainlay experience, although lasting only three years, makes a clear impression on our adolescence. Throughout our lives we will often think back and remember our close friends, hours of homework, studying madly for finals, our lunch hour activities and cheering on our favourite teams. Through our Ainlay memories we will be Forever Young and Forever Titans.

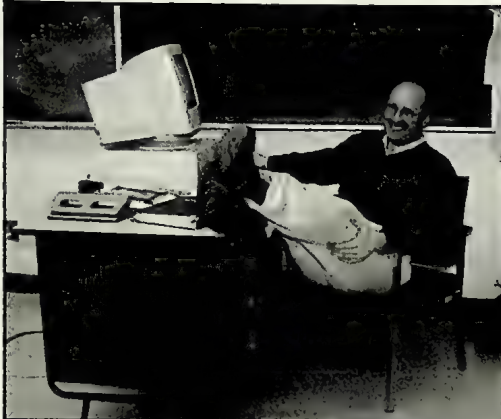

STAFF

How is it that when you arrive at school everything is ready for you? The floors shine, library books are shelved, your math test is ready, and that early morning muffin is waiting for you in the cafeteria. It all comes down to one word "Staff". Teachers, administrators, secretaries, accountants, custodians and many others work behind the scenes to make it all happen for you. Ainlay's dedicated staff are here during the day, in the evenings and often on weekends to ensure that everything is ready for you to get the best education possible. Show your appreciation by saying "Thank You" to a staff member today. Thank you, Ainlay Staff, you are wonderful!!!

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

As we reflect on the 2002-2003 school year it is easy to see why "our lives as Titans" are a source of pride and satisfaction - as well as a source of exhaustion. To say that Harry Ainlay is a busy place is to practice the art of understatement. There is seldom a day that passes without an activity or a celebration. This has been a year of many successes individually and as a school community. We have excelled in academics, in the arts, in athletics and in CTS - reaffirming our motto "in omnibus excelsior" - in all things excellence. From the first day when grade 10 students were welcomed by the Link Crew to Grade 12 graduation you have exhibited your Titan Character and pride. You have continually demonstrated by your actions that you truly believe that Character Counts. Throughout the year parents, teachers and students worked together to ensure that there were ample opportunities for all students to excel and to attain their goals. Our school wide focus on reading comprehension provided you with strategies to improve your academic standing. High standards, mutual respect, shared responsibility and a commitment to each other and the community allowed each of you to grow as individuals and to become stronger team members. The lessons you have learned, the friends you have made and the positive character traits and attitudes you have developed will be powerful tools in future years. Each of you will take very special memories of this year with you. As you look through the pages of your yearbook you will be reminded of personal victories, special moments and the fullness and diversity of your high school life. Always remember that your life as a Titan has set you up to be a champion and a leader who will always do the right thing - even if no one is watching. Thanks for a great year.

STUDENTS' UNION &

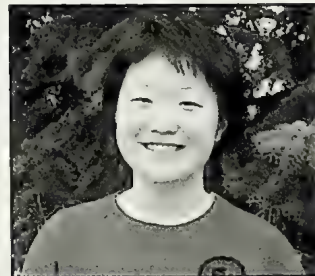

SPECIAL INTERESTS

STUDENTS' UNION

What an amazing year it has been! This year, from September to June, the extraordinary group of individuals serving on your Student's Union have worked countless hours in order to make each month unique and exciting for you! Who can forget all the exhilarating rotunda activities we have had this year along with thrilling events such as Touch of Class, Aloha Ainlay, and Culture Fest? Our Students' Union believes in not only spreading our Titan pride throughout Ainlay's hallways but also into the community and we successfully did that this year with fun events such as A Walk Around the World and Food Bank & Turkey Drive. Yet, regardless of how many events and activities the Students' Union organizes, it is because of the dedication and enthusiasm of all staff and students at Harry Ainlay that truly makes us the wonderful school we are. Way to go Titans!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Many say that some of the best days of our lives are spent in high school. It is meant to be a place where we are able to express our individuality, pursue our passions, and make some great memories along the way. My three years at Harry Ainlay have been nothing short of just this and I could not have asked for a better way to finish my high school experience than as serving as your Students' Union President. I certainly hope you have enjoyed this year and all of its activity as much as I have enjoyed organizing it! This year has been an amazing journey and I am more certain now than ever that Harry Ainlay is home to some of the finest students, teachers, and staff in all of Canada. It is our unity and spirit that make us who we truly are in this school and we should celebrate it! Once a Titan, always a Titan! Thanks for every memory!

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

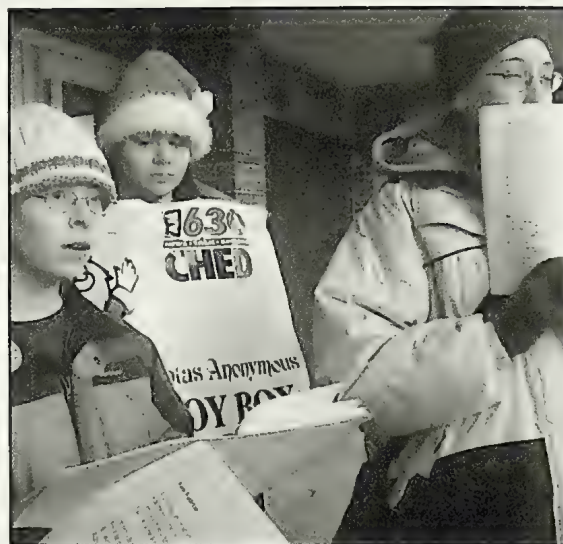

The hallways of Harry Ainlay came alive this year with Titan pride and we've got the pictures to prove it! Since the Pep Rally & BBQ at the beginning of the year, students and staff have been able to show their spirit through fun activities such as Week of the Titans, Scary Ainlay, Christmas Week, Aloha Ainlay, the Arts at Ainlay, and countless more! There is never a dull moment at Harry Ainlay and it's all because of our enthusiastic staff and students who show everyday just what it means to be a true Titan through their good character and participation in school activities. You make Harry Ainlay the wonderful place it is! You're a Titan - be proud!

AINLAY AMBASSADORS

The Ainlay Ambassadors are a group of students dedicated to making a positive contribution to the community. This year's major event for the Ambassadors was the creation of a three day carolling festival, to raise money for a local charity. The event, which included Ainlay teachers, students and their friends singing in various Edmonton neighbourhoods, raised almost $1000 for the 630 CHED Santos Anonymous Drive. Due to their success, the carolling festival will now be an annual event. As well, the Ambassadors were involved in a variety of other local volunteer activities through this busy year. As always, these enthusiastic students have used their energy and time to proudly represent Harry Ainlay in our community. Group Members: Presidents: Maria Chen, Giovanna Baldoz Members: Anushka Jayasekara, Vincky Sidhu, Neha Sharma, Nancy Zhang, Dianna Lau, Lydia Zvyagintseva, Amber Peters, Becky Beepat, Jonelli Bercasio, Ozair Vicaruddin, Christa Spurrell, Muntaka Shah, Jennifer Ambler, Leah Luoma, Johanna Lund, Alex Moore

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL

Amnesty International is a social justice club at Ainlay. The primary goal is to raise awareness of global issues and promote social action to address concerns.

Amnesty students planned several activities this year. International Human Rights Day was marked with the campaign 'Globalize Human Rights.' Students lit candles to raise awareness of the slogan "it is better to light a candle than curse the darkness." In February, we marked the International Day for the Elimination of Racism with a campaign to connect all students in the school. After Spring break, there was preliminary discussion of a benefit concert. We will plan this concert next term. Letter writing campaigns are the primary activity of Amnesty International Club. Students led letter writing activities in social studies and english classes.

Amnesty International meetings serve as a time to discuss, debate, and share ideas on global events. We want to groom responsible citizenship, awareness, and activism. Amnesty Club is open to all in the Harry Ainlay community. We encourage your support and involvement.

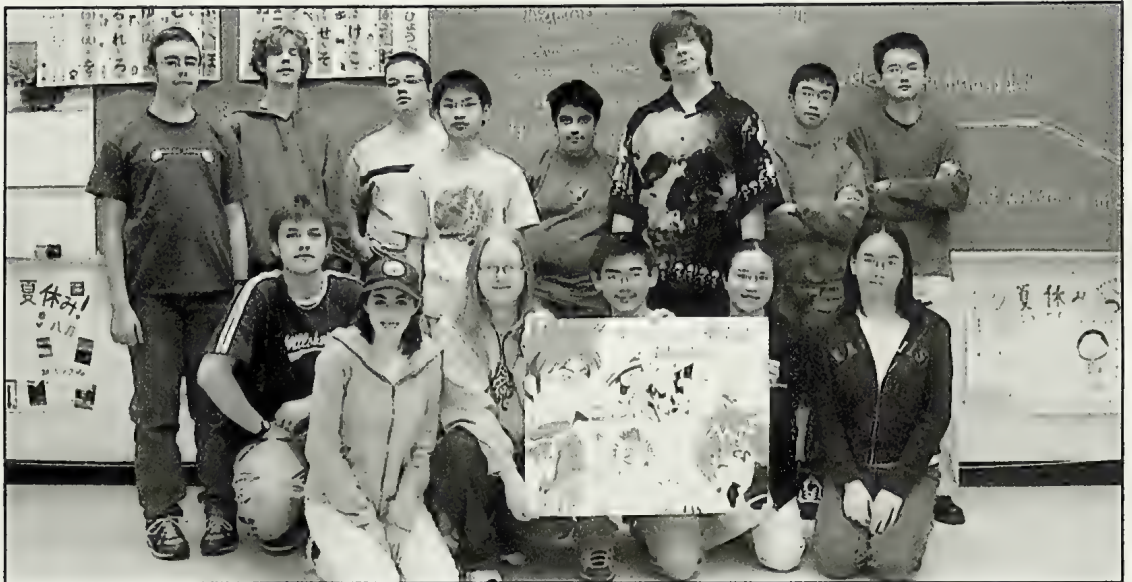

ANIME

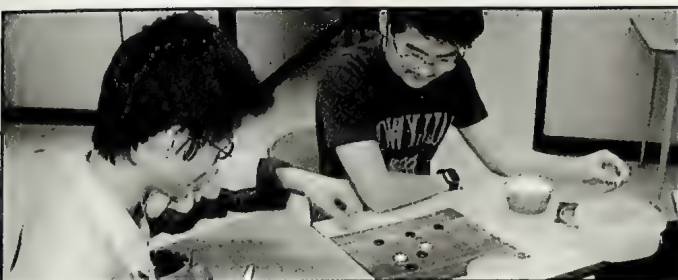

Japanese Animation, more widely known as AnimÉ has been a growing influence in North American Television and Movies, as well as other forms of media. As the Titan's Anime Network of Edmonton (TANE) we work to dispel popular stereotypes of AnimÉ (such as thoughts that there are only things such as Dragonball Z or Sailor Moon) and introduce new genres of animated film to the student body. TANE also holds contests and other various AnimÉ related activities throughout the year with highlights on art contests and after school parties.

The club meetings for TANE are held on Thursday weekly at lunch, we hope to see you there!
Co-Presidents of TANE (2002-2003): Jen, Ryan, Megan, Wen

The Games Club is a very busy group this year. Noon hour always sees at least one chess board in play. Magic is more popular than ever and Go is also seeing a resurgence in interest.

CHESS AND GAMES

ENCOUNTERS WITH CANADA

Encounters was as amazing experience. All of the participants spent a week in Canada's capital, Ottawa, participating in exciting programs. Not only did we see the city in its entire splendor, but also had the opportunity to meet and befriend Canadians from every inch of our country. Stories were shared about each province and territory, allowing Encounters to teach us about Ottawa, and all of Canada. Each week is built around its own sub theme, so there is something for everyone. Encounters with Canada is one of the best trips I have ever been on, and I encourage everyone to think about taking the opportunity to visit Ottawa. It is open to anyone aged 15-17 and is a once in a lifetime experience, not to be missed. By: Amanda Schroter

The 2002 Titans Link Crew Executive was kept very busy over the summer planning activities, arranging for food, rooms and supplies in order to be ready for Link Crew on August 28, 2002. Link Crew pairs Grade 11 and 12 students with crews of Grade 10 students for a day of activities that include registration, a school tour and "get-to-know-you" activities. More than 100 Grade 11 and 12 students welcomed the newest members of the Titan family. Over 750 incoming Grade 10s had been personally called and invited to the day on which they enrolled for classes, paid fees, took tours, ate food, played activities and received their first item of Ainlaywear - a Titans t-shirt. As one Grade 12 student said, "I wish we had Link Crew when I was in Grade 10!"

ORIGAMI

Members of Origami Club meet every Tuesday at lunch in room 331 to try out new and creative origami projects, such as animals, flowers, and other three-dimensional masterpieces. Projects range in difficulty, from a single seven-step airplane to about a 100 piece geometric shape. Origami Club is a great opportunity for those interested in origami, to learn and try it out, while offering those all ready familiar with the art, a chance to challenge themselves with new projects, to learn from others, or to teach others. Origami is the Japanese art of folding paper that challenges the imagination and, of course, fun!

STREET MAGIC

Inspired by David Blaine and other great street illusionists, the Street Magic Club was created for the purpose of tricking people, reading minds, and astounding the unprepared.

Club members of all different levels of experience share ideas and knowledge so students and teachers can provide moments of confused excitement to friends, family and, if you have the guts, strangers in any situation.

The club symbol is the Ouroboros, which is an ancient image of a serpent consuming its tail. Circles symbolize eternity, close ties, and secrecy and interestingly enough a group of magicians is actually called "a circle", which makes it perfect for our club.

SCHOOL REACH

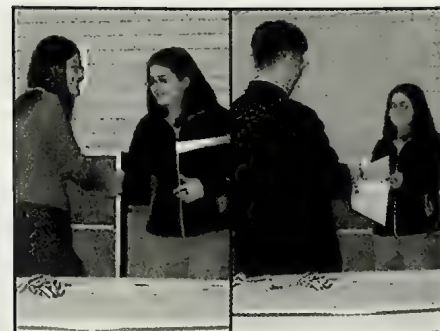

The Schoolreach (a.k.a. Reach for the Top) team competes against other schools in the Edmonton area in trivia. Questions can be about absolutely anything. They generally focus on material learned in school, plus entertainment, sports, and the arts. In any given game, there are four players on each team, but there can be substitutes between games. Reach for the Top is the oldest high school quiz show in Canada. In 1968, Alex Trebek even hosted the show, "Trans-World Top Team", a production of BBC and CBC. This year was Harry Ainlay's second Schoolreach team and had several participants. Students meet on Fridays in Room 354. The team, coached by Mr Huellstrung has proved their brilliance in many competitions.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

This year, the speech and debate club saw a great jump in size, with many new and dedicated members, and many successes. Maria Chen and Naheed Alidina participated at this years Western Debate Seminar, National Debate Championships, and Balmoral Hall Tournament, all held in Winnipeg, and all of which the two of them qualified for at last years provincials. At the Western Seminar, Maria Chen placed 9th and Naheed Alidina placed 23rd, out of 150 debaters. At the Canadian National Debate Championships, Naheed Alidina and Maria Chen placed 12th as a team out of 75 teams, and individually, Maria placed 7th. At the Balmoral Hall Tournament, Maria Chen placed as 3rd overall speaker. Maria Chen and Sean Lee also participated in the Poorboys Tournament and the first annual Gandhi Debate Tournament, placing as 1st and 3rd ranked teams respectively, and were also invited to the Gandhi Society Annual Banquet to take place in spring 2003. Harry Ainlay competitors also had a great year in speech. At the Churchill Debate and Speech Tournament, Jungsuk Ryu placed as second best speaker and has been invited to the Annual Banquet of the Sir Winston Churchill Society in spring 2003. This year Harry Ainlay also hosted the 2003 Senior Speech Regionals. Thanks to the efforts of the amazing student volunteers, statisticians, and the teacher organizer, Mr. Kaminski, the tournament was a resounding success. Harry Ainlay had three representatives, Graeme Armstrong in solo acting, Maria Chen in poetry, and Jungsuk Ryu in original oratory. Jungsuk placed 2nd and Maria placed 3rd, both will be advancing to provincials. The club also anticipates great results at the upcoming 2003 Law Day Mock Trials, and will be attempting to capture the gold again! Finally, we bid farewell to our terrific president Tammy Bach, and welcome Maria Chen as 2004 president.

SPEAK OUT!

The vision of Speak Out! Ainlay's Public Policy Society is "to create a strong, confident, and empowered student body through open dialogue, education, and proactive participation." It is the only political awareness club for students in Western Canada, and it was a smashing success in its first year. With over 40 official members, it has hosted many discussion forums with several key leaders. These "Forums for Political Awareness" attracted more than 50-60 students and teachers, who were given an opportunity to ask the tough questions and hold the leaders accountable. Speak Out! grabbed the attention of the local media, and also students from the University of Alberta, who were all amazed by the concept of youth involvement in political issues. "It was a small, but tough crowd," said Stacy Brotsel of A-Channel News. There were several high profile guest speakers at the variety of forums, including Premier Ralph Klein, Mayor Bill Smith, and several provincial ministers such as David Hancock and Murray Smith. Speak Out! addressed an array of issues concerning youth, such as rising tuition costs, and of course, the Kyoto Protocol. No doubt, Speak Out! was Ainlay's newest and most exciting club, and "an important initiative in the spirit of democracy." - Dr. Ken Nicol, Alberta's Leader of the Opposition.

TITANS INTERNATIONAL

Titans International is a large group of students that help international students adapt to Harry Ainlay and the Canadian life-style and culture. We meet once a week in the Student's Union room to plan extracurricular events, to meet new people and help our international students. Bonds have been made between the Titans International members and international students and students at large. T.I., our nickname, started this great year with a T.I. Toonie Thursday Barbeque and continued with Karaoke Parties, a Halloween Movie Party, T.I. Buffets, a Gingerbread House contest and many other activities. We make all these activities very affordable to all the students that wish to participate in these activities. There was even a T.I. Open House to allow other students to join the fun. T.I. provides the students an opportunity to discover the diversity of cultures.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

Habitat For Humanity is an organization that utilizes volunteer work in order to build affordable housing for low-income families. The Ainlay Habitat club began this year with over fifty members, and continued to grow throughout the year. Students were given the chance to volunteer half of a Saturday in order to help build new houses with their own hands. Whether hammering, installing drywall, placing bathroom fixtures, or attaching insulation, the experience was always an exhilarating and eye-opening experience. In addition, students learned to appreciate their own homes, and discovered the joy and warm feeling that accompanies volunteer work. The club would like to thank Mr. Lavold, the staff sponsor, as well as all the parents and staff who helped drive to the often very distant building sites. Remember that you don't need a club to participate, and Habitat for Humanity is always welcoming volunteers, so get out there, build, and have fun!

The Hollywood History Club allows for students to view and discuss history-related films. The viewing of films of this nature allows for the enhancement of the students' understanding and interest of classroom topics as well as providing entertainment during two lunch hours of each week. Movies purchased by the club are donated to the school library for use by teachers and students.

Movies studied during the 2002-2003 year included Braveheart, Saving Private Ryan, Thirteen Days, Schindler's List, and The Man Who Would Be King.

HOLLYWOOD MOVIE CLUB

SCIENCE OLYMPICS

On the surface, Science Olympics is just like any other competition. But what the flyers don't tell you is how much fun it is. Sure, it takes hours of dedication and spare time to build the pre-competition projects, which included a mousetrap-powered knight and scale model of a bug this year. And of course it involves getting up early on a Saturday morning. But it's worth it. The 2003 competition involved splicing paper "DNA" to force bacteria to do our bidding, solving a mysterious murder using fingerprints and conflicting evidence, and making models of prehistoric organisms based on poorly photocopied low resolution pictures of fossils. In the end, the Harry Ainlay Team didn't win any glorious prizes, but it's plain to see that we had a great time.

TITAN FRIENDS

The Titan Friends Volunteer Organization is a student-led initiative to display school spirit through collective volunteerism and community service. Founded in January 2003, the Titan Friends has already made its mark in the community through various endeavours at local hospitals, such as painting projects, and the coordination of a greeting card program for patients.

In April 2003, the club was featured in the Edmonton Journal for its involvement in redecorating and painting the Outpatient Residence at the University Hospital. A group of 20 students from Harry Ainlay spent their Spring Break painting wall murals and a beautiful ceiling that transformed the appearance of the Residence.

The club wishes to thank the following local businesses and organizations for their support: The Friends of University Hospitals, and Rona Canada.

TITANIC

The Titanic is Ainlay's student newspaper, led this year by Leigh Hudson. The paper provides a medium for students to express their opinions and creativity through newspaper articles, as well as providing them with an opportunity to learn how the paper is run. Each issue is written, edited, put together and distributed by students.

This year's Titanic had about 15 members, whose joint effort produced a newspaper which was consistently well-received by Ainlay's student population.

SUNIA

The Seminar on the United Nations and International Affairs (SUNIA) is an opportunity for students to expand their horizons and see the world in a different light. A summer conference for high school students, SUNIA is designed to create a forum for the free exchange of ideas, and to foster a better understanding of the political, economic, and social aspects of global interactions. On hand to help participants understand the intricacies of international diplomacy are representatives from the United Nations, the Canadian Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, and peacekeepers from the Canadian Department of National Defence.

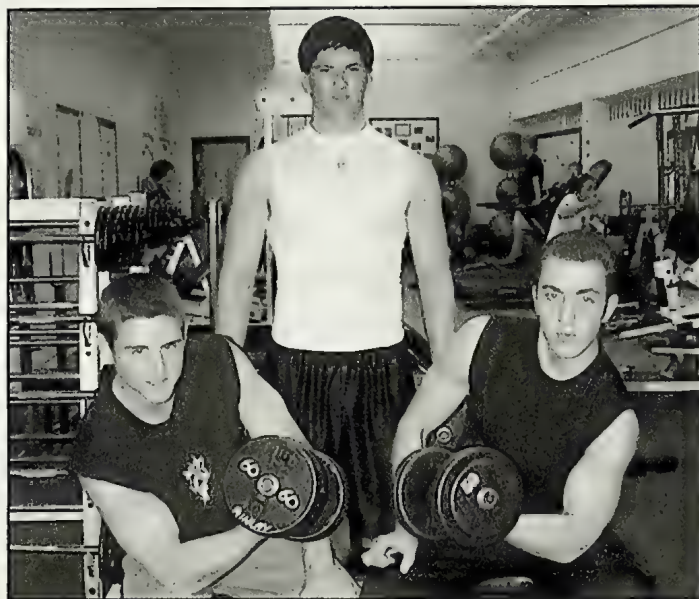

The following students will be attending The Seminar on the United Nations and International Affairs. They are: (Ms. Mawson), Simon Cheng, Raveena Parmar, Kyle Sharpe, Amy Sullivan, Jill Scheyk, Dianne D'elia, Arsheen Devjee, Mayank Rehani, Robin Prihar, Kelsey McCready, Mirna Kovacevic, Giovanna Baldoz, Muntaka Shah
Missing: Mary Anne Loney, Manveer Pnaich, Natalie Wilson
Simon Cheng was awarded the Edmonton Public Teacher's scholarship to attend the seminar.

WELLNESS CENTRE

Opening in October 2002, the Wellness Centre has provided the students and staff of Harry Ainlay with endless opportunities to achieve their health and fitness goals. The Centre organized programs such as The Motivational Challenge, which provided incentives for staff and students to become more active. Pilates, yoga and other classes were also organized through the Centre, giving opportunities for staff and students to try new activities. This year over 200 members took advantage of the Centre and its services, along with many of the PE classes and athletic teams. We look forward to seeing everyone again next year!

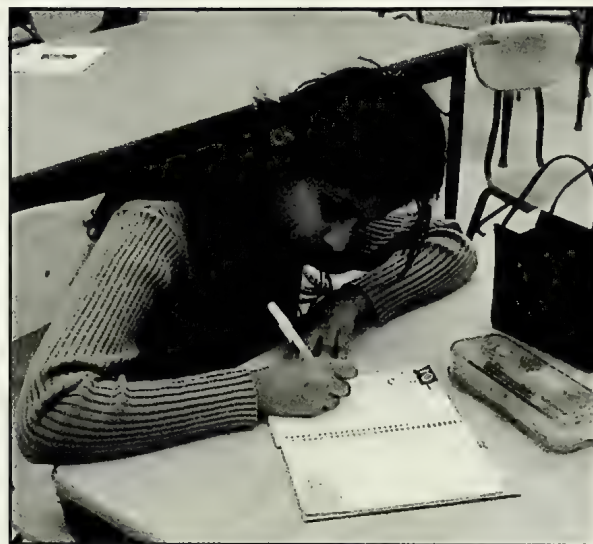

ULTIMATE FRISBEE

This was the inaugural year for the Ultimate Frisbee Club. Started in November, the club introduced the sport to Ainlay. Tuesday lunch hours proved to be exciting and invigorating for both the players and spectators. With the arrival of spring the club moves the fun outdoors.

TITAN TRADITION

Over forty students contributed their lunch hours, after schools and evenings to produce the Titan Tradition yearbook. To make all of this happen students photographed events, designed pages, made friendships, learned how to use digital cameras, PageMaker and PhotoShop software, and met all of the deadlines. Fueled by pizza and pop, editors and members stayed until 10:00 p.m. some evenings to meet the production deadlines. Titan Tradition yearbook members are proud of the fact that they have created a lasting record of that wonderful 2002 - 2003 school year. Their work will be read and cherished by all Titans for their lifetime. Thanks to all yearbook members for their dedication, commitment and perseverance.

ATHLETICS

SENIOR FOOTBALL

The 2002 Ainlay Titan Senior Football team finished with a 2 win, 5 loss, 1 tie record which was not enough to advance to the playoffs. Strong individual performances were turned in by M.V.P. Justin Paniak, Most Valuable Lineman Graham Connolly and Rookie of the Year Stephan Muchena. Good Luck to our graduating players!

 Missing: Jason Narayan, Mr. K. Chu (Coach)

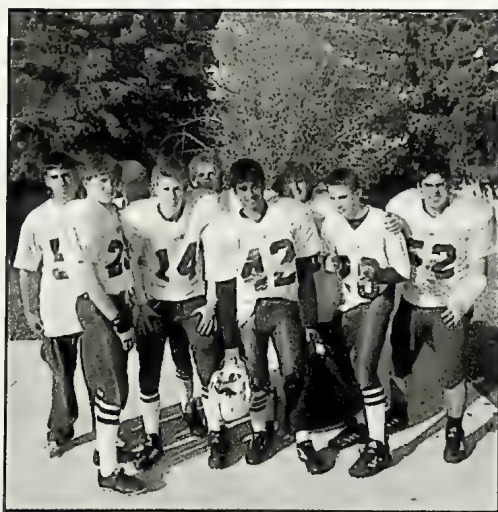

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

Some years the football gods do not look upon your team favourably. This year's 0 and 8 season was one of those years. Despite valiant efforts of the players a win was always just out of reach. The players learned that Titans never give up no matter how discouraging or difficult the task becomes. The Titans will rise up next year!

Another year has come and gone and the Titan machine rolls on! The Sr. Women had a year to rebuild, retool and rejuvenate. This is the year of the silver lining. All roads led to silver medals! The University of Alberta tournament, our own TVT, the Handsworth Tournament in Vancouver, Salisbury, the City finals and of course another 4A Provincial silver medal. The Sr. women experienced many growing pains throughout the season but in the end exemplified what teamwork and being a Titan is all about. A strong effort in Medicine Hat proved that this group had the guts and the will to use them when all the chips were down. The big dogs came to play! Congratulations on a wonderful season ladies, you did our school proud!

SENIOR MEN'S VOLLEYBALL

8th Year as City Champions!

Sr. Men's Volleyball

An undefeated season, an Eighth Consecutive City Championship title and a provincial silver highlighted this year's Sr. Men's volleyball team's accomplishments. Each an incredible feat considering a very injury filled season. The amazing talent and dedication of these players was the key to our teams success this year.

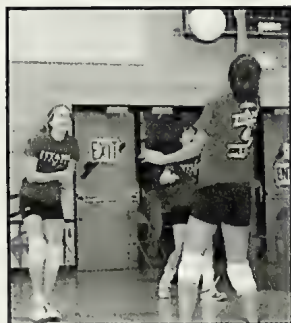

JUNIOR VOLLEYBALL

The Jr. Women's Volleyball team had a very successful season this year. They placed second in both the Western Canada tournament in Calgary and The Lindsay Thurber tournament in Red Deer, and first in the W.P. Wagner tournament. Our own Titan Volleyball Tournament could have easily been the highlight of the season. The Jr. Women were successful in round robin play, finishing first in their pool, going on to win a thrilling semi-final against Lindsay Thurber, and finally, beating Salisbury Composite in the final to capture TVT gold. This tournament was the turning point of the girl's season in many ways. After TVT, the team went up, and never stopped. They finished regular season play at a perfect 12-0. In the post-season they won the quarter and semi final rounds of the premier league tournament, bringing them to the finals. The jr. women played a hard fought match against McNally and rose to a 3-1 victory, repeating their city title from last year. Thanks to all the players, the coaches, the parents and our fans for a wonderful year.

By Captains Holly Bredo and Andrea Ruste

The Junior Men's Volleyball team narrowly missed going to City Championships this year. One of the year's most outstanding highlights was when the team was divided into two teams at our Junior TVT tournament only to meet in the final and place first and second. The team brought home gold at the W.P. Wagner Tournament and won their last game in both Calgary (Western Canada) and Red Deer (Lindsay Thurber) finishing third. The season ended a little bit sooner than they would have liked but they had a great deal of competitive fun and came together as a team. Special thanks go out to the parents and the coaches.

Women's Golf Team

The Ainlay women's golf team had a successful year with the winning of the Provincial Zone 4A championship, and finishing second in the Provincial Golf Tournament held in Sherwood Park this year (at the Broadmoor and Northern Bear golf courses). These young women also won the Fort Saskatchewan High School tournament held at Goose Hummock, taking top honors for teams, individual awards as well.

GOLF

Women's Golf
2002/03

Adaire Moland, Lindsey Betts,
Jenny McElroy, Whitney Cox, Mrs.
D. Bandola (Coach)

Men's Golf Team

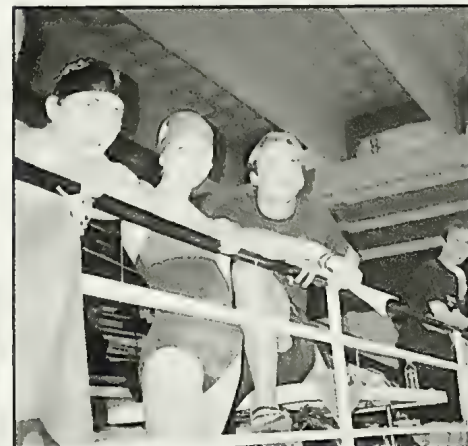

The men attended one tournament and then went straight to city finals. The players put forth their best effort in an exceptionally competitive field of golfers this year. The players showed good sportsmanship and represented Ainlay with Titan Pride.

Men's Golf: Matt, Mah, Justin Delong, Sean
Connauton, Adam Ross,
Mr. L. Hignell (Coach)

SWIM TEAM

The 2002-03 swim team continued its success ensuring more city championship titles for Harry Ainlay. Fifty-eight young and dedicated athletes trained early mornings and after schools to improve their own skills and times and those of their teammates. Swimmers Jeff Lai, Andrew Symes, Jim Phelan and Jian-Lok Chang became city champions by capturing the 400 medley relay title and Jian-Lok, individually claimed the 50 m Fly title. Congratulations to all swimmers for a fantastic year.

WRESTLING

The Harry Ainlay Wrestling Team had a very successful season, winning its first female team city championship. The team also won the overall City Aggregate Trophy, as City Champions, for the first time since 1984. The team was led by Jessica Caswell, who repeated as Provincial Champion at the 65 kg weight class. The team was co-coached by last year's coach Charles Relland, and newcomer Brian Corbett, former Ainlay student and wrestler, who coached at D.S. McKenzie last year, and brought several strong wrestlers over to Ainlay.

Front Row: Julie Marko, Katrina Heschel, Christine Weera, Jessica Caswell

The Titan Cheer team is made up of a group of 20 female athletes in grades 10 - 12. Most of these athletes attended summer camp in July and began the cheer season in September. The Cheer team attended all Senior Football games and participated in the opening ceremonies of both T.V.T. and Tri-Prov. The Titans had a VERY successful competition season this year, winning the J.Percy Page Invitational, the City Championship and captured the Provincial Title for the second consecutive year. Their Provincial win was especially sweet as they had the best score of the day, beating the scores posted by the co-ed team! The Titan cheer team works hard all year; they practice three times per week and meet for two morning workouts per week as well. They are fit, strong and talented and were very proud to represent Harry Ainlay!! The remaining team members would like to extend a special thank you to the graduating veterans and wish them much future success!

BADMINTON

City Champions!

This year's Titan Badminton team had an outstanding season. The team was undefeated in season play and won the City Championship. Congratulations to all the team members.

SENIOR BASKETBALL

12th Year as City Champions!

Once again a great season for the Sr. Women's Basketball team. The team was undefeated in league play for the fifth year in a row and the twelfth year in a row as City Champions. Team success continued at the Edmonton and area zone championship, which the Titans won for the third straight time. The team had a great showing again at Provincials winning Silver in a very tight Provincial Final. This was without a doubt, one of the best Sr. Women's Basketball teams ever to wear the Titan's uniform. Congratulations to a fantastic group of young women and a great coach.

Senior Women's Basketball

City Champions!

The 2002/2003 edition of the Titan's Senior Men's Basketball continued the tradition of excellence this past season. Highlights included winning the Edmonton Public League Championship and an exciting win in the championship game at Tri-Prov. The Titans qualified as the number one team in the Edmonton Zone and lost a close game to Taber in the Bronze medal game at the 4A Provincials. Ranked in the top three teams in the province all year, the Titans had an exceptional year.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL

Jr. Women's Basketball

The Junior women's basketball team had a terrific season this year. Undeclared in the regular season, the team finished off with a 31-4 record. Hard work, dedication and passion were the contributing factors to all of the successes. In tournament play the girls ended up with two gold, two silver and one bronze medal, always finishing in the top three. The team was ranked 3rd in the province throughout the season. Justine Melnychuk was the MVP and leading scorer. Karen Watson's speed and hard work won her the best defensive player. Asha Olmstead and Whitney Lane were named the team's most inspirational players. With only one returning player, this young team accomplished great things! Well done, girls!

Back Row: C. Nelson (Coach), Sarah Moore, Clare Young, Suzey Ogle, Kelsie Oliver, Britney Lavatai, Sharon Lali

Missing: D. Hopkins (Assistant Coach)

Jr. Men's Basketball

The Junior Men's Basketball team had a great season. The team went 35-6. They entered 8 tournaments winning 5 of them and finishing 3rd once. The other two tournament were against Senior Teams and the team went 3-3 in those games. The year was highlighted by a Vancouver Road trip and winning the Reb Tournament and our own Tri Prov. The boys lost a heartbreaker in the City Finals 74-71 to M.E. Lazerte before extracting some revenge the next week in the tournament of Champions. The boys won their final tournament defeating Lazerte 71-51.

Senior Women's Rugby

"Tier II CityChampions!"

The women grew as a team and by the time playoffs came around they were in top form. They defeated Eastglen in the semi-finals and went on to defeat M.E. Lazerte 15 - 7 to capture the gold in the tier II city championship.

Missing: Ryan Cocks, Daunavan Buyer, David Reese, D. Hunter (Coach)

Senior Men's Rugby

The senior men's rugby team had an excellent season, remaining undefeated in regular season play and finishing the season first in their division. Unfortunately, they lost to the more experienced McNally Tigers in the semi-finals. The team's performance this season was exceptional and next year they should be in a good position to win cities.

SOCCER

The Jr. Men finished the regular season with a record of 3 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie. In the semi-finals they beat out Old Scona but were nudged out by Ross Sheppard 3-1 in the City Finals.

The Sr. Men finished the regular season with a 5 win and 1 tie record. In the quarter finals they trounced Memorial High 5-0. In a well fought semi-final game the senior men lost to Jasper Place High School.

The Senior Women's soccer team had a successful season winning the City Championship (for the third year in a row), with a 5-0 shellacking of McNally. During the season, the team struggled, finishing 4th in the league with a 3-3 record. But the team pulled together, beating Ross Shep 4-0 in the quarter finals, and Wagner H.S. 4-2 in the semi-finals.

TRACK

The Titan Track & Field team had some outstanding performances at both the City and Provincial Championships. The team finished 2nd overall at Cities and 3rd overall at Provincials in Camrose. There were several outstanding performances from our athletes at both the City and Provincial Championships. Melissa Jeremy won 7 medals (5 Golds, Bronze and Silver). Aaron Robson won 6 Gold medals, 3 City and 3 Provincial (1 record). Chelsea Hitchen won 5 medals 4 Golds (1 Provincial) and a Bronze. Other outstanding performers this year included Jeya Naicker, Lindsay Petersen, Travis McKay, and Daniel Rawson who went to a wedding in Denver, Colorado instead of Provincials in Camrose. Thanks to all the athletes that participated especially our Grade 12 stars Melissa Jeremy, Travis McKay, Andre Locker, Dieter Molcak and Ryan Wagner. We will miss all of the Grade 12s. Stay on Track!

CURRICULAR

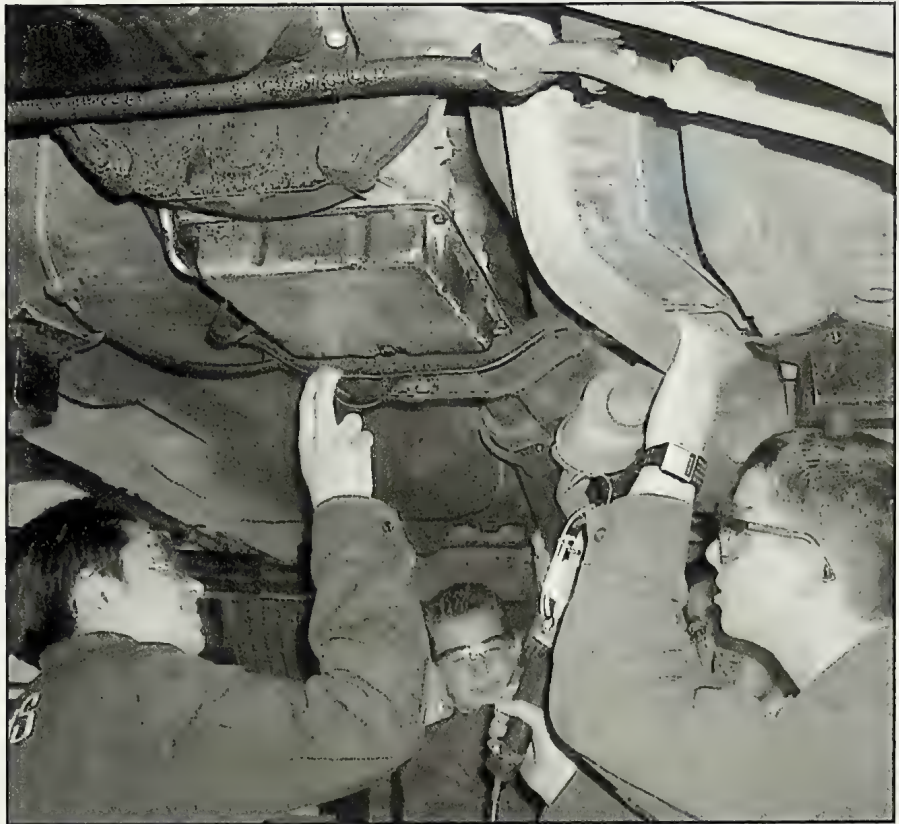

MAKING THE GRADE

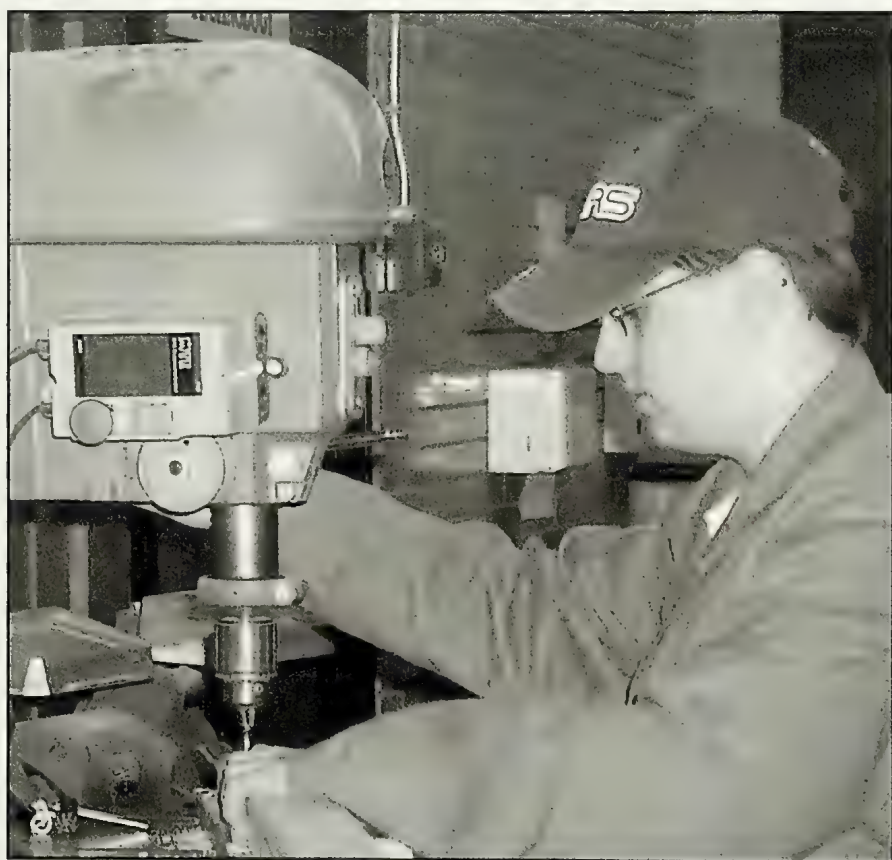

CAREER & TECHNOLOGY STUDIES

Roll up your sleeves and get to work! At Ainlay, CTS courses provide a hands on way to learn about numerous career related fields. Think of a career and there is a CTS course that has a relationship to that field. Some students stick with one CTS strand throughout high school whereas others sample various courses for fun and to explore career options. The concepts that you learn in core subjects you can apply hands on in CTS courses. A major bonus is that you make and take home cool things like photographs, metal sculptures, printed t-shirts, a business plan, computer art, drafted house plans, a fixed car or a picnic table. You could even eat a cake that you made and arrive home with a new hair style. So many course to try and so little time. What should I take next year? I could take

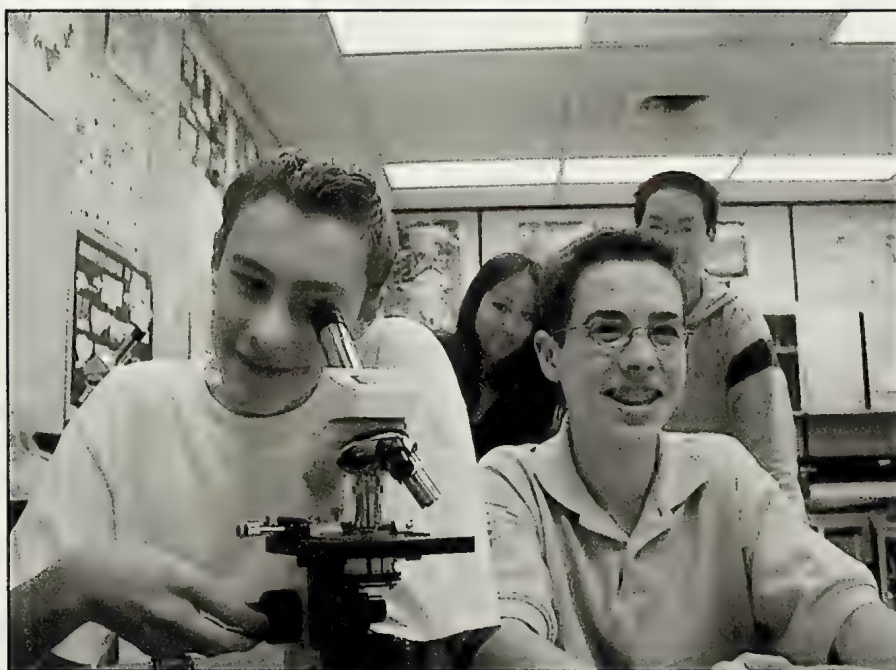

CTS Courses Include:
Automotive Technology
Communication Technology
Construction Technology
Cosmetology
Design Studies
Enterprise and Innovation
Fabrication Studies
Fashion Studies
Financial Management
Foods
Information Processing

INTERNATIONAL BACCALAUREATE

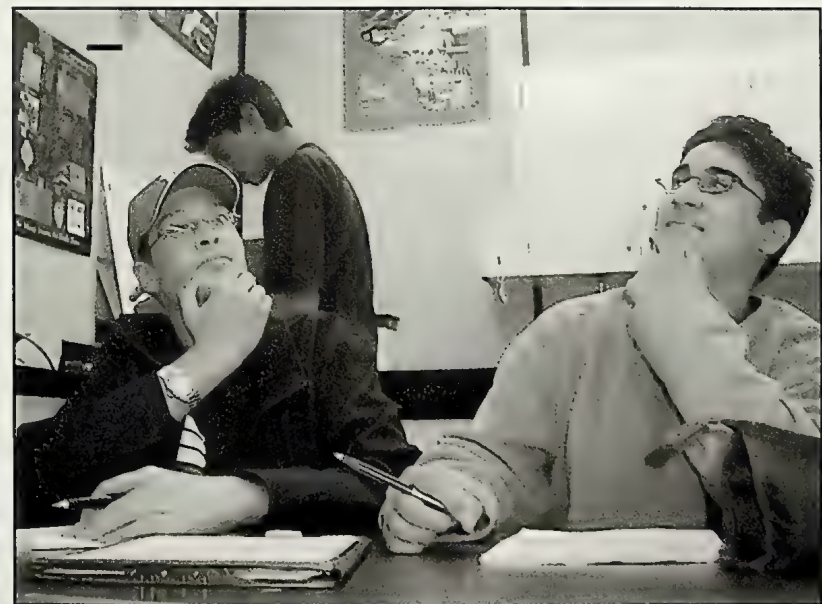

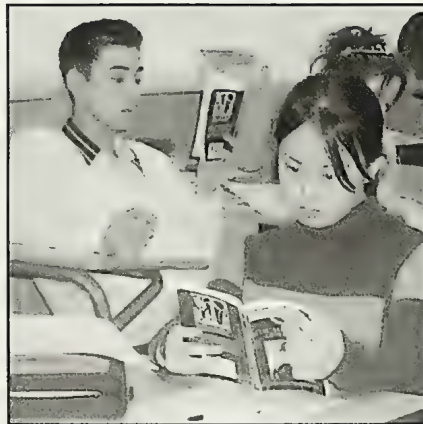

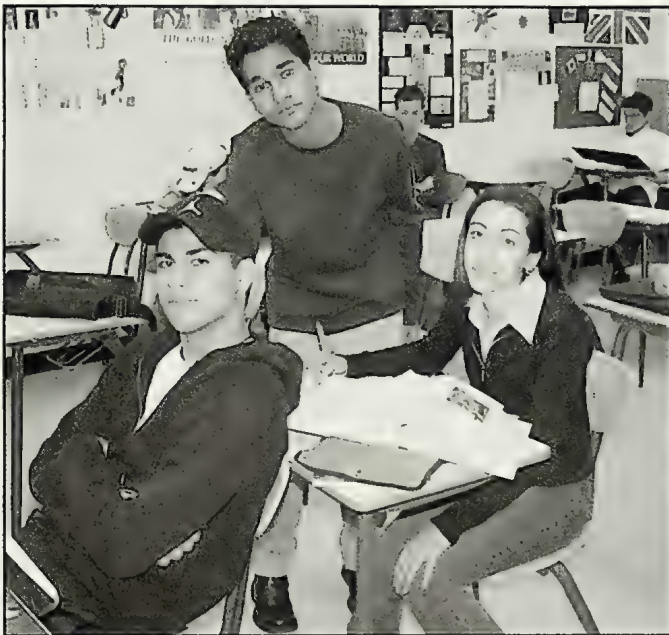

International Baccalaureate (IB) is a rigorous academic program that gives students more opportunities to develop critical thinking skills than any other high school honours program. Harry Ainlay is the largest public school offering the IB program in Canada (over 500 students), and is recognized internationally as one of the largest and most successful IB schools in the world. Ainlay has been offering the program since 1984. IB is a fantastic program to be enrolled in and Ainlay students agree by saying that they value the dynamic classroom environment, individual instruction, challenging curriculum, dedicated teachers, and most of all, the opportunity to develop self-confidence and leadership skills. Even though IB is a challenge, students believe that it is a gratifying experience. Students like Amber Peters believe that "it is extremely fulfilling to be placed in an environment where everyone pushes you to a higher level of thinking and achievement". Ryan Sandhu believes that the "program teaches him good work habits ... and is preparing [him] for the future." Overall, IB provides a challenging atmosphere that can bring a real sense of accomplishment to its students.

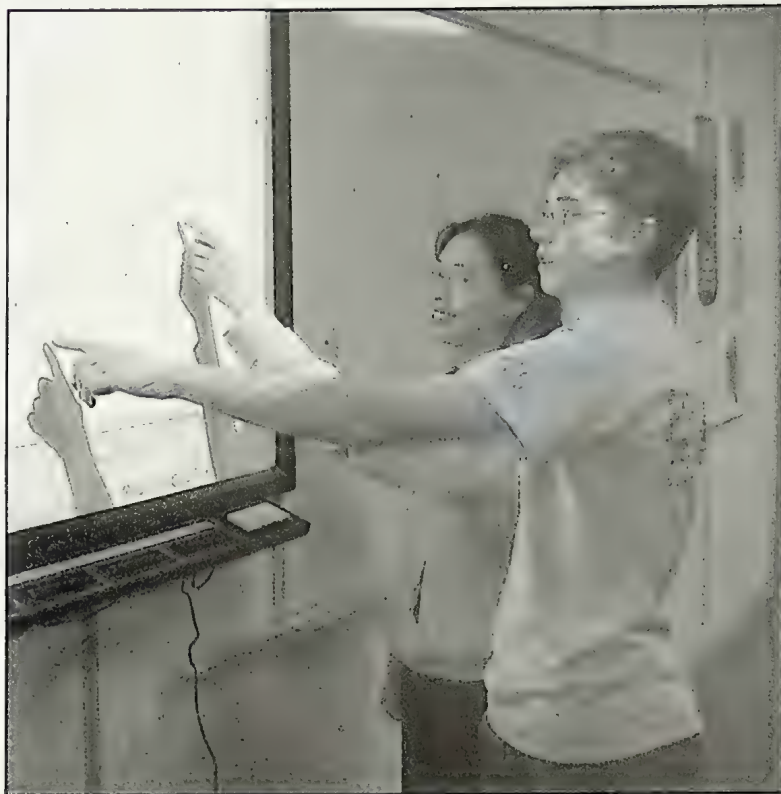

CORE SUBJECTS

English, math, science, and social studies make up the core subjects that all students take. Core subjects give practical experience to students through labs, presentations, and experiments. We learn how to write essays, calculate the thrust of a rocket, examine a sheep's heart and debate the conflicts that occur in our world. Our teachers prepare challenging, informative, and sometimes amusing assignments to help us master the many skills imbedded in the curriculum. We may not be able to clearly see it right now but we are gaining valuable and marketable skills that will prepare us for our future careers. Enough said, I have to start studying!

ART PROGRAM

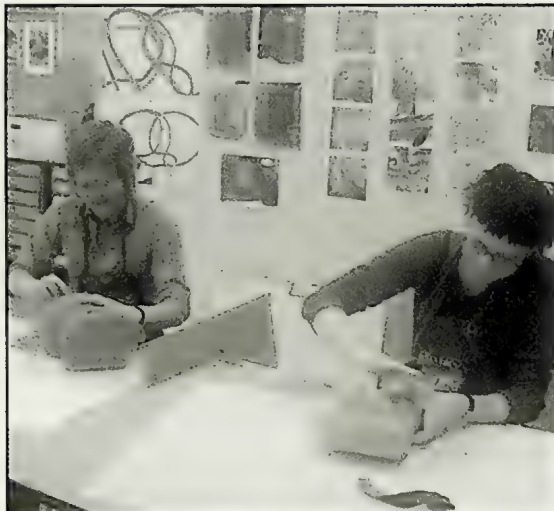

At Harry Ainlay, students studying Art are encouraged to find their strengths and to explore subject matter that is personally relevant to their daily lives. All students study drawing, painting, sculpture and collage and are also encouraged to experiment with new and unusual materials in the artmaking process.

MUSIC

The year began with 150 students attending our annual trip out to Camp Nakamun for the Harry Ainlay Music Camp. Staff and students had a wonderful time over the three days at camp. The third week of March was the Alberta International Band Festival held at the Winspear Centre. The bands rose to the occasion once again as they received five gold medals and one silver. Symphonic Band was awarded the Most Outstanding Concert Band in the festival. This year the Choir, Concert Band and Symphonic Band performed in Los Angeles at an international festival. Over 120 students spent 5 days in sunny California. The annual Winds at the Winspear concert took place on Tuesday, May 27th and featured the Harry Ainlay Choir, Concert Band and Symphonic Band along with several special junior high guests. To finish up the year, the Concert Band and Symphonic Band travelled to Red Deer to participate in the Alberta Band Association's Festival of Bands. Other events the Jazz Band performed in include Big Band Bash early in the second semester, Open House on March 6th, and their final concert on June 4th.

Mr. Agrell-Smith received two major awards this year honouring his ongoing contribution and impressive theatre work in Edmonton. Edmonton's Salute to Excellence

Mr. Agrell-Smith received this award for his lifetime achievements, continuing dedication, commitment, and outstanding legacy which has benefited all Edmontonians. The award proudly bestows upon him all the rights and privileges granted to a distinguished member of the City of Edmonton's Cultural Hall of Fame as THEATRE - BUILDER.

Elizabeth Haynes Sterling Awards

Mr. Agrell-Smith was unanimously chosen for this award for his Outstanding Contribution to Theatre in Edmonton. He was recognized for his invaluable contribution to the profession and to the theatre community of our city. Our Congratulations go out to Mr. Agrell-Smith on behalf of the staff and students of Harry Ainlay High School.

AN EXTRAVAGANZA OF EVENTS

TITAN VOLLEYBALL TOURNAMENT

We "Entered the Unknown" and left with fond memories of the 23rd annual Titan Volleyball Tournament. Opening ceremonies began with music, flashing lights, smoke, singers, dancers, and ended with flaming torches. Sixteen men's and women's teams entered the tournament from across western Canada. When the smoke settled Ainlay's Senior Men's and Women's teams emerged with silver. The Junior Men's and Women's teams both finished with gold making them the rulers of the jungle. Special thanks to the organizing committee, the players and coaches for making this an unforgettable event.

THE 1ST OKTOBERFEST

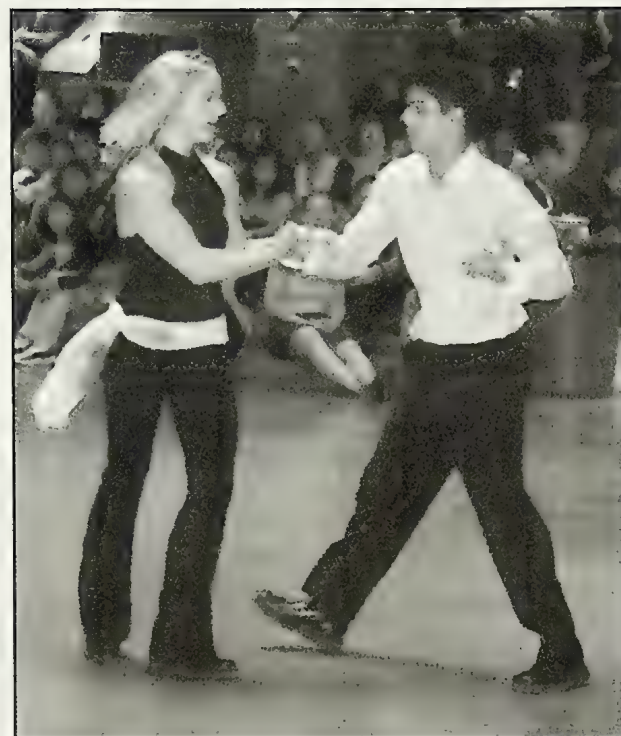

Servus! This year marked Ainlay's very first Oktoberfest. Herr Huellstrung and students from around the school put on a very successful event, one we hope will become a tradition at Ainlay. Visitors were treated to a real atmosphere of Gemuetlichkeit, through the hardwork of many students and the beautifully decorated rotunda. Highlights of the event included a fashion show of ethnic costumes from around Germany, the yodelling accordionist, and a dynamic folkdance performance by the Bavarian Schuhplattlers. The audience was able to get into the spirit of the event through singing and the pretzel eating contests.

Auf geht's bis zum naechsten Jahr!

CULTURE FEST

This year, from November 18-22, students at Ainlay got to enjoy Culture Fest earlier than usual. Every day, the Rotunda was packed as everyone came out to watch talented musicians, dancers and singers represent their cultures. Delicious food was provided for all by restaurants like Good Buddy Restaurant, and the King and I. After the performers were done, everyone was able to participate in activities such as a spicy food-eating contest, piñatas and Harry Ainlay's own version of the Amazing Race. On Friday, there was a fashion show put on by a group of students in the Rotunda, show-casing the dress of many of the cultural groups at our school.

A TOUCH OF CLASS

This year's Touch of Class took us to the Hollywood Hills and the Academy Awards with it's theme of "On the Red Carpet". The Decorations Committee spent hours making the halls and the Rotunda looked fabulous using lights, curtains and a huge mural of the Hollywood sign. As every student entered the school in the morning they were offered candy, and each girl was given a carnation. Before school and during lunch, performers entertained us in the halls and the Rotunda. Students and staff raised Ainlay's look of sophistication to bold new heights for this one glamorous day. Ainlay you looked so fine, so hot, so sweet, so fly, so sharp, so smooth, and oh! So stylin'!!

OPEN HOUSE

Show Off!! That's right. Ainlay showed its stuff on March 6th during the open house evening. Our students set up displays, spoke to numerous grade nine students and their parents about all the fabulous opportunities that exist right here at Ainlay: Strong Academics, Languages, Music, Art, Drama, Phys.Ed. and CTS. Ainlay has it all. Aren't you glad you made the right choice in coming to Ainlay? Oh! Yeah!

CTS WEEK

One week of cool CTS courses capable of capturing our career concerned craniums! CTS week started with a bang this year when a TV showing videos rolled down the stairs and imploded. Ooops! This was followed by a yummy cookie decorating event in the rotunda. Staff and students also competed in a nail driving competition at lunch with the final result being the teachers winning hammers down. Displays and demonstrations throughout the week gave students a glimpse into the wide variety of CTS courses offered at Ainlay.

BATTLE OF THE BANDS

This was the 10th Annual Battle of the Bands at Ainlay. Seven bands entered the competition this year. Well played music rocked and vibrated the gym as musicians and singers gave dramatic performances. The bands fought right to the end in one of the closest battles that Ainlay has ever seen. Riz'N were the winners by 7 votes. Substance was second and The Tyrell Monkeyman Band was third. Congratulations to the members of Riz'N: Kreshia Turner, Joel Vardy, Jose Diaz, Evan McCoy, April Poetker, and Tony Valente.

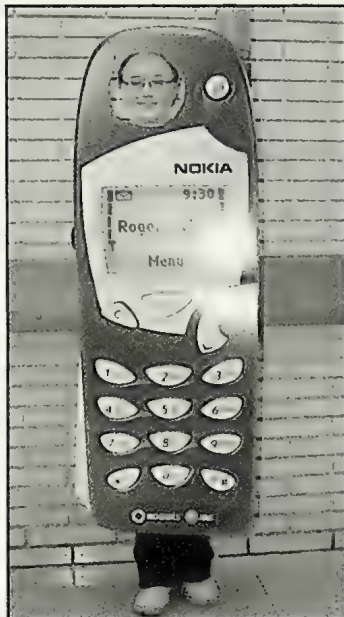

Skills Canada promotes student excellence through National competitions in all CTS courses. The provincial skills competition took place in Edmonton on May 13 and 14, 2003. Over 700 students competed from across Alberta and 16 students competed from Harry Ainlay. Grace Kelly in Job Interview, Andrew Haggard in Job Skill Demonstration, Adam Clifford, Justin Danes, and Stephen Bosko in Welding, Dieter Molcak and Gavin Flansburg in Mechanical CAD, Rachelle Gingras in Baking, Andrea Smith and Katrina Boyes (Silver medalist) in Culinary Arts, Rema Taha and Sandy Tang in Intermediate Hair, Joses Martin and Daunavan Buyer in TV/Video Production (Silver medalists), Daniel Kojima and David Morley in Internet Webpage Design (Bronze medalists). These students were amazing and represented Harry Ainlay with great character and skill.

SKILLS CANADA

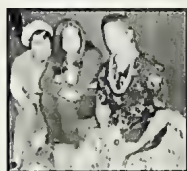

HALLOWEEN

Just because we're in High School, it doesn't mean that we can't dress up and enjoy ourselves on Halloween. Titans showed their creativity in coming up with great costumes like the cast from Grease, Richard Simmons, cheerleaders, cell phones, and a variety of ghosts and goblins.

ALOHA AINLAY

In the middle of January's cold, Ainlay's S.U. organised a day of fun, sun, and luau!! Students came to school dressed in shorts, t-shirts and sarongs. As they came in the doors, they were handed colourful leis, and during lunch, a tiki bar and limbo pole were set up in the Rotunda for all to enjoy!

TRI-PROV '03

Harry Ainlay hosted the annual Tri-Provincial Basketball Tournament. Teams from across Western Canada participated in the tournament. The event started with an extravaganza of talented Ainlay students who entertained the packed gymnasium audience with their singing, dancing and humorous antics. Ainlay's Senior Women's team captured gold as they defeated the Raymond Comets 61-49. The Titan's Senior Men's team won the gold medal defeating the Ross Sheppard T-Bird 65-64 in a hard fought battle.

EUROPE TRIP

Travelling across Europe in the spring sounds like a dream. Add thirteen friends, Munich, Salzburg, and Paris to the adventure and you have a dream come true. That's what it was for all of us who went on the 2003 Spring Europe Trip. With Agrell and Ms. Fischer in tow, we saw the Eiffel Tower, L'Arc de Triomphe, yodellers in liederhosen, and much, much more. We spoke French, German, and a ton of franglais. We learned not only how hard it is to attempt to speak foreign languages, but we learned that the culture and everyday lives of those who live in Europe are not only different from us Canadians, but are fascinating to experience first-hand. Those twelve days filled with art, architecture (lots of architecture), and laughs, were twelve of the best days of our lives.

LE GALA FRANÇAIS – CÉLÉBRONS

Harry Ainlay High School was the host for LE GALA FRANÇAIS on the evening of April 10. This public speaking and dramatic arts event was celebrated en français by over five hundred student participants from grades one to twelve of Edmonton Public Schools. Before parents, teachers, adjudicators and other guests, the students presented poems, prepared speeches and dramatic arts performances, all en français, to celebrate their achievements in the French Language programs in Edmonton Public Schools. Twenty-five Harry Ainlay students participated in the public speaking component, but over one hundred Ainlay students worked as volunteers, advertising, setting up, taking down, guiding and hosting this all-encompassing event – a Titan contribution and participation in this wonderful celebration of learning French in Edmonton Public Schools.

BLOOD DONOR CLINIC

The Blood Donor Clinic is an annual event at Ainlay going back many years. Over 100 staff and students donated blood on May 27th and May 29th of this year. Approximately 127 units of blood were taken by registered nurses from Canadian Blood Services. Door prizes were won by students who participated in the Blood Donor Clinic quiz. Thanks to all student volunteers and teacher advisors.

GRADS

PRECIOUS MOMENTS...

FINAL DAYS!

GRADUATION

In the fall of 2000, the class of 2003 walked through the doors of Ainlay for the first time. Over the next three years, the "Titan experience" would forge new relationships, attitudes, and memories. Excelling in academics, arts, and athletics, the class of 2003 celebrates their successes at Graduation, boldly anticipating where the memories lead.

ONE VERY SPECIAL NIGHT

12 YEARS IN THE MAKING

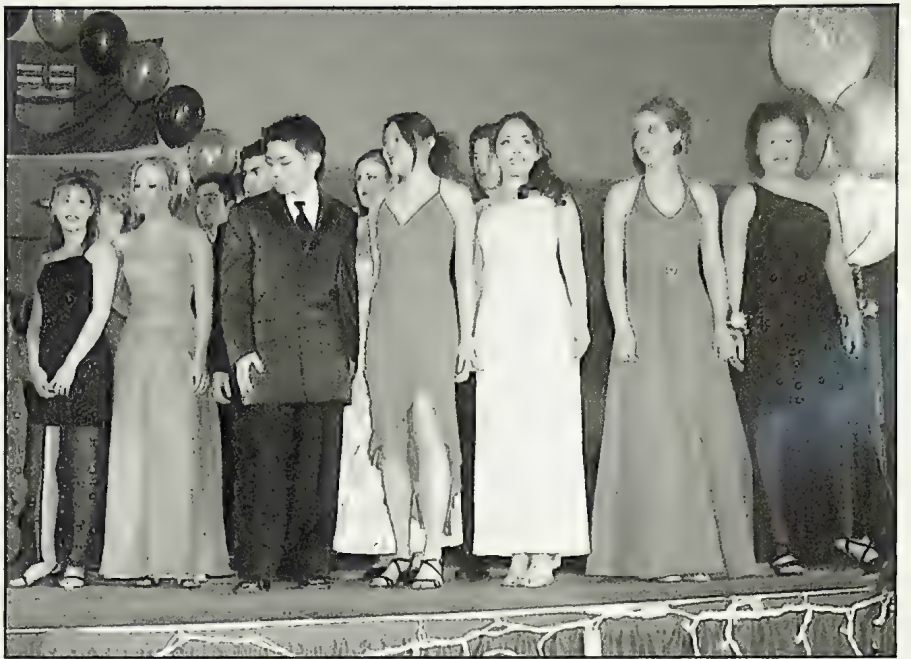

A NEW FUTURE TO CREATE

GRAD FASHION SHOW

As always, this year's Grad Fashion Show and Gala was a spectacular event consisting of talented models, great clothes, and an enthusiastic audience. Twenty models and countless volunteers worked incredibly hard for weeks before the show, to create a magical evening. During the event, today's hottest fashions in both casual and formal clothing were shown. Southgate Shopping Center provided all of the clothes. During the intermission, our very own country star Samantha King gave a stunning performance. All proceeds from the show went towards funding our Grad Banquet.

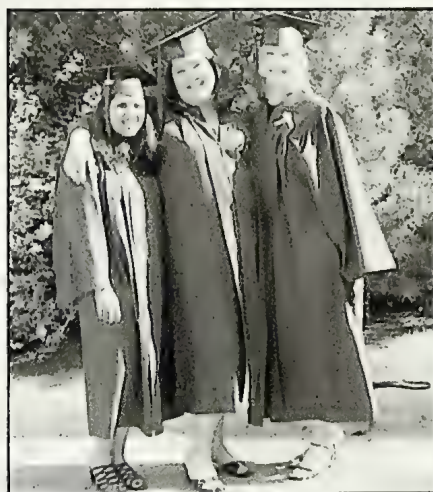

GRADUATION COMMENCEMENT

After three years at Ainlay, our work finally paid off as we tossed our tassles, were delivered our diplomas, and strutted across the stage. A night to be remembered by all, as we turn a new page and embark upon the rest of our lives, discovering, where the memories lead.

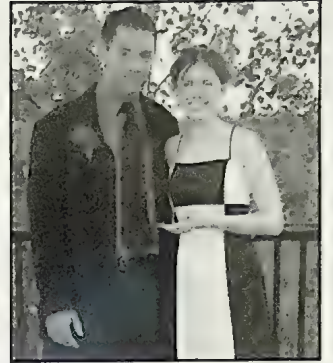

GRADUATION BANQUET

May 24th, was a day of celebration, remembrance and joy for the senior graduating class of 2003. It was also full of surprises! In preparation for the big night, girls hurried about from hair shops to last minute make-up touch ups, while the guys were out golfing, and fifteen minutes before they were supposed to pick up their dates, finally putting their tuxes on! Regardless of how much time was spent everyone looked stunning. The evening was filled with heart-felt speeches. From Caitlin and Mrs. Sanborn honouring the parents of our amazing class, to Amy and Mrs. McCabe recognizing the efforts of our incredible staff at Harry Ainlay, and Leigh Hudson giving an excellent Blessing for the evening. As soon as the meal was finished it was back on with the show, as Jinting Zhao wowed many with her incredible vocal talents. Her cover of 'All or Nothing' by Athena Cage was astounding.

The evening began wrapping up as Kelsey McCready presented Mrs. Kwan with a gift of appreciation for all of her hard work and commitment towards making Harry Ainlay High School the best. The 2003 class gift was presented to The Cross Cancer Institute in the amount of $500.00, and also to Norwood Elementary Lunch Program in the amount of $500.00. After thanking Ms. Stevens for all she has done for the Grad Committee, it was time for a little surprise. With Ms. Baker sitting at her table unexpectedly it was time to finally give something back. With the presentation of a bouquet of flowers it was recognized that Ms. Baker helped out with more areas of Grad then most people even knew existed. Her countless hours were an asset to making the evening a success. Finally, leaving our final year of High School was hard on all of us. However, it isn't just us moving on this year. Before the evening came to a close, it was time to honour our Principal Mrs. McCabe for her hard work, dedication and commitment to the staff, students and atmosphere at Harry Ainlay. Mrs. McCabe has grown with us through our last three years at Ainlay. With her constant encouragement she has made our High School experience easier. As we move on to our new endeavours in the coming years, we must also wish Mrs. McCabe all the best on her new journey as the new Assistant to the Superintendent of the Edmonton Public School System. Thanks once again to the performers; toasters and everyone else who helped make the Banquet such a memorable event. Let's make sure we continue to find out "Where The Memories Lead".

Dana Lea, Banquet Chairperson

2003 GRADUATION COMMITTEE

Thank you to the entire 2003 Graduation Committee for the countless hours that they dedicated to ensure an incredible graduation. Thank you also to their committee advisors who guided them through the process with their knowledge and experience! Last but not least, thank you to the student and parent volunteers who contributed so much time and effort behind the scenes. These three groups of people, working in concert, created an astounding graduation from the ground up. In all its many aspects, from the Fashion Show to Graduation Pictures to Commencement and Banquet, graduation was an undeniable success. What a wonderful way to celebrate the end of twelve amazing years!

GRADUATION PRESIDENT: JIA HU

We stand on an island of the present – behind us swirls the sea of half-remembered memories and barely recollected pasts, while beyond us beckons an even more mysterious future. Indeed, tonight, our winding paths have brought us all to the brink of the unknown. Although most of us are considering those first few steps into the future, whether with anticipation or apprehension, I think that we should take some time to just pause, stop, and reminisce.

Have we reached our present circumstances, garbed in graduation gown with diploma in hand, all by ourselves? The answer to this is a resounding no – without the wisdom, support, and guidance of our teachers, friends, and family we would have been gazing forever at that opposite shore, never having the means to traverse the chasm. For the past twelve years of our lives, our teachers have educated and enlightened us, in both scholastic and worldly matters. The influence of our friends stretches back even further. From when we first discovered the magic of friendship to the here and now, our friends have always been willing to lend an ear during difficult times or offer a hearty laugh in lighter ones. Finally, there is family, the only group of people who have provided unabated affection and unconditional love from the instant we were born into this world. Tonight, we thank these people – our teachers, friends, and family – for lighting our way and building our bridges so that we could surmount the insurmountable and mould our ephemeral dreams into concrete reality.

And what a dream we are living today! Twelve, even three, years ago, graduation must have seemed so distant, a faraway beacon we had to reach. But as the days, weeks, months, and years flew by, spent unravelling the mysteries of calculus, celebrating birthdays with the closest friends, and enjoying the passion of a first kiss, we inched ever closer to the goal. Time truly is the gradual instant, for although graduation, the culmination of our works, represents the briefest snapshot in the journey of life, what it commemorates has been built on the foundations of decades. Although no one knows where the winding roads will take us, if we can be true to the past, and be true to ourselves, the sky's the limit where the memories lead.

My fellow graduands, just as tonight is your night, so too can every day of the future be your day. Senior class of 2003, congratulations and Godspeed.

PRINCIPAL: MRS. C. McCABE

Good evening ladies and gentlemen, honored guests, and graduates. It is a very special evening for all of us as we celebrate the accomplishments of this rather large Class of 2003. I feel truly honored to have had the opportunity to work with these fine young adults for the past three years and to watch them grow and mature. Tonight I want to share with the graduates my reflections on the lessons we have learned as TITANS

T – teamwork – Tonight's celebration is the result of the efforts of the dedicated team that have surrounded you throughout your school career. The combined efforts of parents, teachers, family and friends have ensured support and consistency in your daily endeavors. Take some time over the next few days to thank someone who has made a difference in your life.

I – integrity – You have become young adults whose daily actions indicate you have internalized the importance of being a person of integrity. You are respectful and responsible individuals whose decisions are based on honesty, fairness, forgiveness and a firm belief in the value of diversity. These lessons will be invaluable to you as you become more actively involved in our global community and play a critical role in shaping a peaceful and tolerant world.

T – tenacity – During your school years you have addressed numerous issues and have overcome the many obstacles that have crossed your path. You have learned to face these challenges head on, to draw on your experience and knowledge and the expertise and counsel of your advisors and your peers to persevere until you attain the desire goal. You are indomitable and never say die – as is evidenced by the hours some of you have kept at the school over the last few years.

A – achievement – You have been guided by our school motto – in all things excellence – and you and I have learned to accept nothing less. Your achievements in the arts, in athletics, in academics, in leadership and in the community are outstanding and a credit to your spirit and pride. Tonight's awards allow us to recognize only a sample of the incredible talent in the class of 2003. They will continue to amaze us and we will follow their careers with pride and will celebrate their successes for years to come.

N – novel – Original, creative, having no precedent. Perhaps this is the best way to describe the Titan experience and spirit. The diversity of individuals, activities and opportunities you have been exposed to have broadened your horizons and awakened your curiosity and creative abilities. I am certain that you will use these skills to join the long list of Titan graduates who have made significant accomplishments in their chosen fields and who continue to make ongoing contributions to their communities. Tonight I would like to recognize one such Titan. Next week Ken Agrell Smith will be inducted into Edmonton's Cultural Hall of Fame. For more than thirty years he has quietly inspired students to reach within themselves to find the best of their character to create fully realized fictional characters for the stage. In all things he has been excellent. Agrell could you come out to be recognized.

In closing – Your theme song "It's So Hard to Say Goodbye to Yesterday" is quite appropriate – because yesterday was full of laughter, friendship and fun –but it was also full of trouble and tears and successes and disappointments. The Titan traits you have developed have prepared you to move ahead to tomorrow. Set goals, follow your dreams, accept change as a challenge and remember to have faith in yourself, be good to yourself and laugh – at yourself. Tomorrow will be well "worth the wait" because you will make it so.

Thank you for the many ways you have enriched my life. Good luck and keep in touch.

GUEST SPEAKER: MR. G. NICHOLSON

Good evening graduands, staff, parents, friends and special guests. It is a pleasure for me to be here tonight as your guest speaker and to bring greetings from the Board of Trustees of Edmonton Public Schools.

Tonight is an evening of mixed emotions. Your theme song puts it well. "It's so hard to say goodbye to yesterday." Those of you who are graduating are happy to be leaving high school, however, I am certain you have the same concerns expressed in the song about where the road is going to lead. Don't forget that you can plan the trip. You don't have control over flat tires, road blocks or detours, but you can still set a general direction for yourself.

Those of you who are celebrating with your sons or daughters this evening may also have mixed feelings. You see them in cap and gown, and you remember dropping them off at kindergarten. Where have the years gone, you wonder as you replay memories of all the years in between. You can be sure that you have played a very important part in the fact they are here tonight. Your support and encouragement has made the difference. They are saying goodbye to high school and may even be leaving home, but they are still counting on you to be there when they need you. I know that teachers, too, find it hard to say goodbye. Each year you watch another group of students you have taught or coached, and come to know, walk out the door. You may never know where they go from here, but there are always some students you will never forget. Don't forget that you have touched them, too. Even though you may never know it, you have had a significant impact on their lives and they won't forget you. I was principal at Harry Ainlay for eight years, and still have fond memories of my time here even though I "graduated" in 1992.

When I was preparing my comments for this evening's ceremonies, the theme "Where the Memories Lead" brought a flood of thoughts and recollections regarding my eight years as Principal of your wonderful school. One of my most vivid memories during my years at Harry Ainlay was during a visit from a former student. Jolan Storch was attending the University of Toronto and following her first year of university she dropped in for a visit. Jolan is a lovely young woman who was President of the Student Council, an honors student and a world-class volley-ball player. We had a wonderful conversation regarding her year in Toronto, and we spent a pleasant half hour reminiscing about her high school years. As she was leaving, I told her to make certain that when she had time, to drop in and visit since she was always welcome at our school. Jolan was quick to point out that the school was not "ours" but rather "hers." As Principal I was just taking care of it for her for a few years. I know that Jolan's possessiveness about her school is reflected in the manner in which the Class of 2003 feel about Harry Ainlay.

Memories, however, are personal reflections, and as such, are individually held. Perhaps some of the students and teachers during my tenure as Principal hold dramatically opposite opinions of those years that brought so many rewards and so much fulfillment to my career as an educator. Memories can also fade. A few years ago our grandson, Geordie was performing in the Christmas Concert at Satoo School. As we stood in line to be seated, my wife and I were chatting and a woman in front of us turned and asked me if I had taught at Parkallen School where she had been a student. She gave me her name, and a host of wonderful memories came back to me regarding that particular Grade Five class which I had taught. She asked me what brought us to the school and I told her that we had a grandson in Grade One who was performing in the Concert. When I asked her what grade her youngster was in, she replied that she didn't have a child in the school. Then she proceeded to tell me that she was at the Concert for the same reason my wife and I were – she had a grandson performing in the Concert as well – only he was in Grade Six.

Perhaps my memories of that particular Grade Five class were a bit hazy.

When I received the invitation to speak to the graduands, I immediately went "on-line" to see if I could glean some words of wisdom and advice from some famous individuals to share with you this evening. "The Net" provided a variety of admonitions and provocative advice that one could impart to a class of graduates. However, I didn't think Dr. Phil's or Oprah's words of wisdom would have any great impact on our honorees. I did, however, unearth a wonderful commencement address attributed to Kurt Vonnegut, author of such masterpieces as Slaughterhouse Five and Breakfast of Champions. Vonnegut's commencement address purported to have been made to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's class of 1997 and started with: "Ladies and Gentlemen of the Class of 1997 - wear Sunscreen." He went on to say, "If I could offer you only one tip for the future, sunscreen would be it. The long-term benefits of sunscreen have been proven by scientists whereas the rest of my advice has no basis more reliable than my own meandering experience." Vonnegut provided additional advice such as, "to sing; to floss; to stretch; to dance; to travel; and to respect your elders."

Tonight, bearing in mind that Vonnegut's advice and mine are based on our respective meandering experiences, I will offer some advice and observations that perhaps will stand you in good stead in the years to come. George Bernard Shaw observed that youth was a wonderful thing and that it was a crime to waste it on children. The observation is profound, since being young means being creative, having dreams and aspirations, being inquisitive, desiring to learn, being optimistic, having compassion, and, above all being honest. Young people have these qualities in spades. Tragically, many of us lose these essential values as our chronological age increases and Shaw's observation that it a crime to have wasted youth on the young becomes all too true for many of us. My challenge to the Class of 2003 is to ensure that you retain those youthful qualities that are so valuable to our society.

Harry Ainlay School has been your home away from home for the past three years. Your school has emphasized achievement in academic subjects, achievement in the fine and practical arts, athletic accomplishments, and growth in intrinsic character traits. Harry Ainlay School has ensured that the development of values is an important component of your education. The importance of developing positive character traits is certainly not a new concept. Mohandas Gandhi described the "Seven Sins of Mankind" as follows:

Wealth without Work;
Pleasure without Conscience;
Commerce without Morality;
Science without Humanity;

Worship without Sacrifice;
Politics without Principle; and Knowledge without Character.

Ghandi was endowed with the title Mahatma to recognize the purity of his soul. Not all of us will reach Gandhi's level of purity and self-sacrifice, but each of us, in our own way must work to make the World a better place. You have been provided with the knowledge to help you attain your individual goals. As well, I am certain that you possess the necessary character traits to make our society a better place.

Character is the essence of an individual, and it is important for each of us to examine our own character on a regular basis. There are certain values we should all strive to incorporate into our character - respect for others, responsibility to our community, integrity in our conduct - these attributes are some of the pillars of good character. Our character helps us to make our way through life in an honorable way. It gives us the ability to make wise choices and to consider the needs of others. As well as ourselves, character is what ultimately defines a person and assisting students to develop their own character is an important part of the work of parents, guardians, community members and educators.

You are our future and I trust that each of you believe that tomorrow will be "worth the wait." You are the architects of your own destiny.

Remember, it's hard to say goodbye to yesterday but it is an exhilarating challenge to say hello to tomorrow.

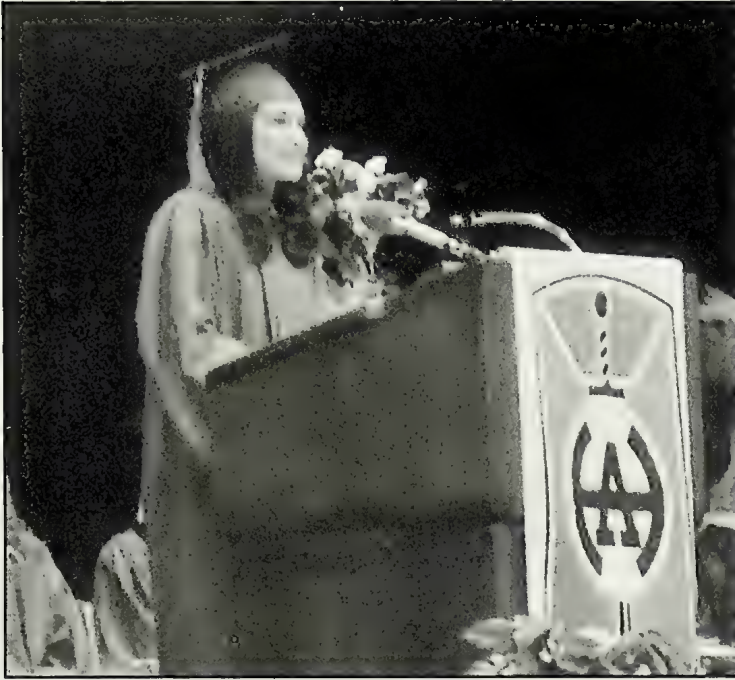

In closing I would be remiss if I didn't offer my favorite Mark Twain admonition.

"Always do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest."

Good Luck! God Speed! Wear Sunscreen!

MOTIVATIONAL BLESSING - ASNA SYED

Good evening Harry Ainlay.

Albert Einstein once said, "I never think of the future. It comes soon enough." And so it has arrived. Tonight is a momentous occasion we have reached, a significant crossroad on the road that has carried us through the last 12 years of our lives. However, we would not be here today, as the people we are, without the support, guidance, and love of the many individuals who have been a part of our lives. On behalf of the graduating class of 2003, I am honoured to deliver the motivational blessing. The motivational blessing is meant to express gratitude for those who have helped shape the individuals we have become and are becoming. As each of us steps out boldly into our future, it is important to acknowledge and remember these extraordinary people and the impact they have had on our lives.

I think the author Jan Howard summed it up best when she said, "Call it a clan, call it a network, call it a tribe, call it a family. Whatever you call it, whoever you are, you need one." Our family - they have been with us quite literally since the beginning of our time, they never leave us, even when sometimes we wish they would. So it is only natural that we take them for granted once in awhile. But in truth, the relationships that we have with our families may be some of the most important that we form, whether we realize it or not. It is within our families that individual differences are appreciated, where mistakes are tolerated, and communication is open. These individuals have seen us at our best moments and at our worst, but have loved us nonetheless and always will. Other things may change us, but we start and end with family.

Friends, these are the individuals with whom we dare to be ourselves. They know who we are, and like us just the same. We may choose our friends for different reasons. Whatever the reason may be, our friends all share one thing, they make us happy, they have the ability to turn our darkness into light, pick us up when we are down, and also offer us strength and support when we need it the most. Our friends are not only the selected few whose shoulders we can cry on and who know us inside out, but they are also our classmates and our peers. Daily interactions inevitably lead to relationships beyond our expectations, and it is those who can offer a smile or a kind word whom we will remember years from now.

Lastly, we owe a large part of our success to our teachers. These are the individuals who have helped us discover our capabilities and encouraged us to find our individuality. From them, we have learned to excel, to be the best we could, and to cherish our uniqueness. Many of us have had the privilege of sharing a friendship with some of our teachers, but regardless of the relationship we have with them, each and every one of our teachers is respected and admired, because their task is by no means an easy one. What we have learned from our teachers is more than we will ever know. It is not so much that they can teach us about our academics and co-curricular activities, but more so what they have taught us about life. Our teachers have opened many doors for each of us, and prepared us with the tools we will need to enter through these doors alone. Teachers affect eternity, it is never known when their influence stops.

Tonight is where the memories have led us to but our journey has only just begun. Before us lie many choices and results, all of which we have been prepared to overcome through the support, encouragement, and love of the special individuals in our lives. We are all now ready to take different paths in our lives, but no matter where we go, we take a little bit of each other with us everywhere. Thank you Family, Friends, and Teachers, you shall never be forgotten.

VALEDICTORIAN ADDRESS: JIA HU

Good evening fellow graduands, teachers, parents, honoured guests...

When I first started thinking about what to write for this speech, I really had no idea what to say – A valedictorian address is supposed to motivate, to inspire, to capture the intensity of the moment and transform it into something anew. I am supposed to say things like: tonight is your night, reach for the stars, the future's your oyster. But the truth is, these phrases, without a foundation in reality, are really only empty words...

I leave it to the motivational blessing, the guest speaker, the principal's address and nearly every other word issued today to fill your hearts with encouragement. But I leave it to this speech to ground your minds in a reality that we can not yet escape from. The fact of the matter is, as perfect and pristine this evening may be for us – the culmination of over a decade's work – what we see represents only the slightest fraction of the world. Our city, our province, our country is perfect in comparison to our world. We were given the slightest glimpse of this on September 11th. A piece of the outside world shattered, for a moment, all our ignorance and misconception of the paradise we live in. Yet the irony is, events like 9-11 play themselves out around the world every single day. Destruction, devastation, and death are recurring themes to so many of the world's people – for example those living in the Kashmir region between India and Pakistan, or those caught within the continual strife between Israel and Palestine.

And what is even more ruinous than war comes from a far more fundamental problem. All too often, we take for granted the things that we have been blessed with – food, health care, homes. I say we, because so many are not quite so lucky as us. When 24, 000 children die of hunger each day, who mourns for them? It is a testament to humanity's goodwill that after September 11th, there was such an outpouring of grief, but why do our hearts not care when eight times that number will die on any given day? Why can we not look beyond the borders of our country and see that there is a world crying for help?

Hearing this, some of you might think: it is naïve to think we can change the world.... what can only one person do? As I see it, in front of you lay two roads. One of cynicism, callousness, and close-mindedness; the other of idealism, sympathy, and openness. Without idealism in our hearts, humanity would never have left the Stone Age: it is idealism that fuels the dreams of a better time and a better world. On the other hand, the cynicism we possess when we say "it doesn't matter because it doesn't affect me" will wrench our humanity away from us: how human are we if we can see millions die and simply turn our heads the other way?

I will close with a challenge, and a promise. I challenge all of you to take that second path. Look beyond your familiar borders. See the world around you for what is truly is, and change it. And I promise that each and every one of you, in spite of everything that seems to limit, to hold you back, has within him or her the capability, capacity, and competency to make the world a better place. How to do this is for you to discover, for it will be different for each and every one of you.

Just remember, the future really is yours: mould it not around yourself, but around the world.

CLASS HISTORIANS: DARYN, RICHARD, ANDY, SACHIN

Journey of the Titans

Daryn Baddour, Richard Lee, Andy Mikula, Sachin Sahel

Note: All cues for video are in bold, Italics explain the separate clips

Darkness – low house, stage off. The intro video plays – Six character virtues majestically displayed to emotional music. Richard exiting a washroom stall smiling as the sound of a toilet flushing is heard. The camera pans right and zooms in on the "Respect" poster – "Flushing the toilette". Cuts to Bam-Bam running through the rotunda to cheesy "Rocky" music and stopping Richard in his tracks. He kneels, and is knighted by Bam-Bam. Bam-Bam takes off his head to reveal Ms. McCabe underneath. Andy, Richard, and Daryn walk on stage to microphones DSL.

Pause video at "Ainlay Pride"

Richard: That was Ms. McCabe – she knighted me for adhering to the character virtue of "Respect". I flushed the toilette!

Andy: That must have been the best "knight" of your life!

Richard and Andy high-five

Daryn: What's up Ainlay? I'm Daryn Baddour

Andy: Hi. I'm Andy Mikula...welcome to the next two hours of commencement

Richard: Hi. I'm Richard Lee

Everyone looks to the right

Andy: Where the heck is Sachin? This is so typical...missing the most important event of our lives...probably sleeping or watching basketball or something...

Lights fade on stage and the section in which Sachin is sitting in the audience (centre) is lit

Sachin: Oh yeah! The Historian thing! I knew I forgot something! I'm gonna look like an idiot up there in this ridiculous gown!

Sachin makes his way to the stage, taking the audience right aside and walking up the stairs to join the others DSL. The lights fade on the audience and go up on the stage

Andy and Richard (as Sachin runs up): Hurry up! They're waiting! We don't have a lot of time to do this...your forgetting isn't going to help...

Sachin: Heh...sorry guys

Andy: Anyway, we are here tonight, as historians, to recall our unforgettable years at Ainlay and discuss them with great sentiment, as we embark on the great journey that lies ahead...

Daryn: To recall the great legacy that has been our high school years...

Sachin: Great legacy?

Richard: Okay, so we're mainly here because...nobody else auditioned, and to talk about the past three years – and there's a lot to discuss! There's...the memories...the experiences...the "rique du passage"

Andy: What the heck are you talking about?

Play tape

Daryn: I have an idea. Let's start at the beginning – think way back, two years ago, to grade 10...

Grade 10

Andy: Ah yes, Grade 10...the year of introductions and new experiences. New people, new friends, new teachers...

Daryn: Weird teachers...

Video clip of Matichuk holding his severed finger in a jar

Sachin: He won't be able to eat finger foods anymore...

Richard and Sachin high five

Richard: The year we were all introduced to Ainlay's special events...like "Touch of Class"!

Video clip of several girls dressed up

Sachin: Whew, look at those ladies...you'd never suspect that was us...

Daryn: Right! Besides that...there was also "Culture Fest"

Footage of dancing in the rotunda

Andy: What's "Culture Fest" again?

Sachin: I know...with all those Brown-sorry, "Peoples of Southwest Asian Descent" dancing...and...y'know, that other stuff, that happened...I can't really remember. Anyway, You know what I mean.

Pause tape when screen goes black

Andy: Right

Daryn: We also got to see some freestyle rapping in the rotunda too!

Play tape

Footage of Agrell waving hands like a "gangsta" and saying "I'm gonna get you, sucka!"

Pause tape when screen goes black

Sachin: Word.

Daryn: Heh...Sachin...where did that clip come from? That's not the right one...oh well.

Andy: Another new experience in Grade 10 was cafeteria food. You know, a lot of people say a lot of bad things about the cafeteria food, and we...disagree. In fact, I think the burgers are top-notch.

Richard: Top-notch indeed, sir. Grade 10 was also your first chance to break out and get involved. Some go-getters tried out for every sports team...eh, Sachin?

Play tape

Andy: Which clip was first? Was it track...?

Footage of Sachin trying out for track, falling, and getting cut. Powell: Who gets cut from track? Footage from Sachin folding paper. Ito: Sachin, we don't normally cut people from the origami club, but you're cut

Sachin (during clip): My form was good...

Andy (during clip): You fell! Running.

Richard (during clip): Who gets cut from the track team?

Andy: (When Ms. Ito is talking) What'd she say?

Sachin (during clip): Nothing...

Andy (during clip): You got cut from origami club?

Sachin: Yeah...real fun...origami club...I'll show them...next grade, please!

Grade 11

Pause tape when "Grade 11" is centred on the screen

Andy: Grade 11. Now that...was a turbulent year. An interesting, but certainly turbulent year.

Daryn: September 11th. Our world was shocked by the atrocity, and we witnessed a painful exposure of North American vulnerability. It changed all of us...

Sachin: I'm sure all of you will remember where you were when you heard...what you were doing...no, not a year to be forgotten, to say the least.

Richard: Yes, but we have to stride on...we have to move on...no, really...I mean we have to move on!

We've only got five minutes left for this!

Play tape

Andy: Five minutes? Wowza! Anyway, Grade 11 at Ainlay saw, among other things, the installation of security cameras in the hallways. Check out this important footage caught by the cameras by the auto hallway...

"Security camera" footage of Matichuk in hallway – looks around, drops keys "accidentally" next to a chocolate bar wrapper, picks both up, sniffs + licks wrapper, and scurries away

Andy (during clip): Yep, there's the auto hallway...

Sachin (during clip): Is that Matichuk?

Andy (during clip): Yep, there's Matichuk...

Sachin (during clip): Why is this so important?

Andy (during clip): Keep an eye on the chocolate bar wrapper...

Sachin (during clip): Licking the wrapper? Awww, Matichuk, I could've lent you a dollar...

Daryn: Grade 11 was also the year of the teacher strike, or as some of us called it, "Christmas Break II"

Andy: Hey, I'll have you know – I did a lot of studying over those two weeks...

Sachin: I'm sure you did...

Footage of Andy + Richard on couch – Andy pulls out magazine with large foldout, Richard: Look at that cell division!

Richard: We also saw the IB students intensifying their studies with G4 projects...and spending maybe a little too much time in the library...

Footage of Ellis Chan sleeping on table in library – he gets poked, looks around, and is scared right off the table onto the ground

Grade 12

Pause tape when "Grade 12" is centred on the screen

Daryn: And on to grade 12. Our last year – our reigning year as kings of the school. The year many of us had already earned spurs...and by "earned" I mean skipping the first three weeks of classes...now we're in the home stretch. Sweetest...

Play tape

Andy: Not that this year didn't have its stresses. I mean, Richard, you got pretty stressed out even on the first day back to school, didn't you?

Richard: Well...

Footage of Richard in the washroom splashing water on his face – "I can do this – I am a strong, confident individual...I can do this" after more water splashing, he begins to sing "I am beautiful" before striding out of the room confidently

Sachin: Yep, no matter you slice it, Grade 12 definitely had its stressful moments. We had one heck of a school-security drill, that's for sure...

Andy, Richard, and Sachin: CODE RED LOCKDOWN! CODE RED LOCKDOWN!

Footage of Cory Pong running down the hallway and shimmying up the walls of the entrance to a washroom with his back and feet as Andy, Richard, and Sachin yell "Code Red, Lockdown! Code Red, Lockdown!"

Cory's shoe falls off and he plummets to the floor

Richard (during clip): Needless to say, the plan to "get to the cafeteria if you don't have a class" didn't really work for everyone...hurry Cory! You can make it! They'll never find you up there! To ease things up a little, the administration thought it would be a good idea to play music in the halls instead of warning bells.

Daryn: Which has led to some painfully bad dance-walking in the hallways...

Footage of students dancing down the halls as they are yelled at to "Get to class!"...a custodian dances the opposite direction down the hall with his mop

Andy (during clip): The music's on...why aren't they going to class?

Richard (during clip): When you hear the beat, it's time to move your feet!

Pause tape when screen goes black

Sachin: Coming back to Grade 12, we saw a lot more people in the hallways, as the smoking area was replaced with an outdoor classroom. Students who were expecting to take new classes such as "Smoke Rings 101", "Chewing 101" were told to butt out.

Andy and Sachin high five

Andy: Finally, the biggest stress of all – or at least for some people...just managing to graduate.

Sachin: What? I'm going to walk across that stage, I swear! My mom wouldn't come if I wasn't graduating! Hi mom! ...I am graduating, right? Please?

Andy: Umm, okay...good for you, Sachin...

Richard: Ahem. Others would say that the most stressful situation for anyone is the tense relations between the U.S. and Canada...

Sachin: Lousy Dallas Stars! Pshh, Mike Modano...more like...Mike Mo-dumbo!

Andy, Richard, and Sachin high five

Daryn: Sachin...that was terrible.

Andy: Anyway, now it's our turn, as the new generation, to go out there and change the world with brilliant resolutions of our own.

Daryn: So we move on, carrying with us the wisdom gained from our experiences at Ainlay. We move on, but we remember...

Play tape

Footage of various students in the halls...friends, couples, etc. Andy and Richard perform (poorly) "Time of your life" by Green Day – Andy on guitar, Richard on vocals

Stop tape on "Class Historians 2003"

Lights fade on stage as Andy plays the last chord on the guitar

Richard: Wait wait wait

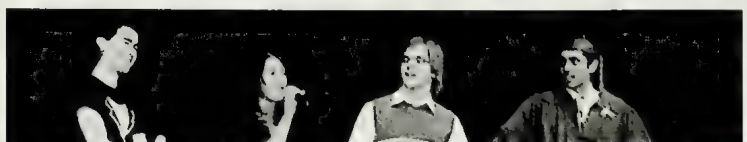

Lights up on stage

Richard: we can't end it like that – let's play something that more accurately reflects the spirit of grad.

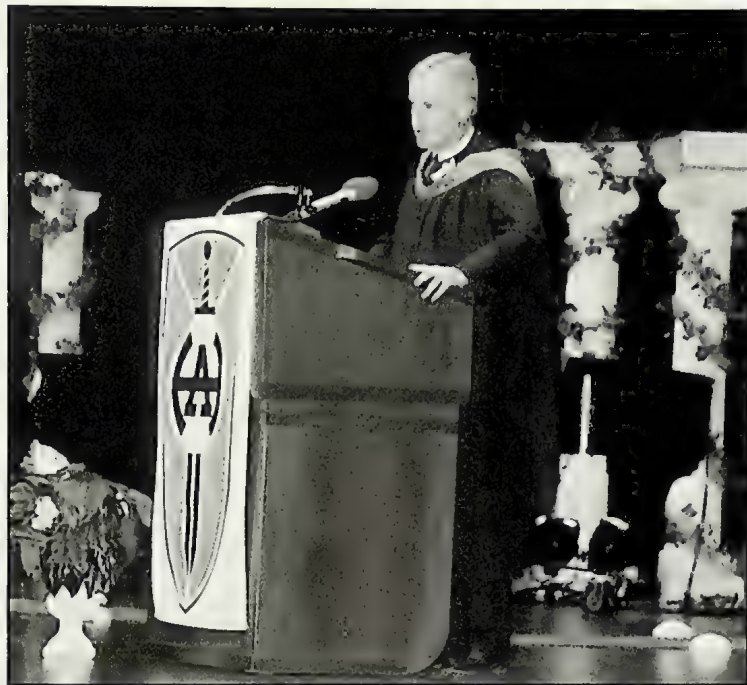

Andy: Are you thinking what I'm thinking?

All: ROCK AND ROLL!

Lights fade, CD is played over the P.A. system – "School's Out" by Alice Cooper. Rock.

SUPERINTENDENT: MR. A. McBEAN

Trustee Nicholson, Principal McCabe, Graduands, Parents and family members, Ladies and gentlemen.

Thank you for the opportunity to be a part of this very special ceremony tonight. I am so pleased to join you in celebrating a great group of young people – the 2003 graduating class of Harry Ainlay.

It's a great pleasure to be standing here tonight, looking out over this wonderful group of achievers and the people who are so proud of them. Commencement is a time to think back on what you've done to get to this point; and to look forward to what lies ahead, and this is truly reflected in your grad theme "Where the Memories Lead". For some of you, that path is still uncertain. For others, it is clearly marked with direction and purpose.

Obviously, you know what it's like to work hard, and successfully, along side others. This will be a great asset to you as you enter post-secondary studies and the workforce ... as you find a place for yourself in the community outside the walls of your school.

The public education system has been designed – and constantly adapted – not to hold your hand, but to give you a good grounding in the basics.

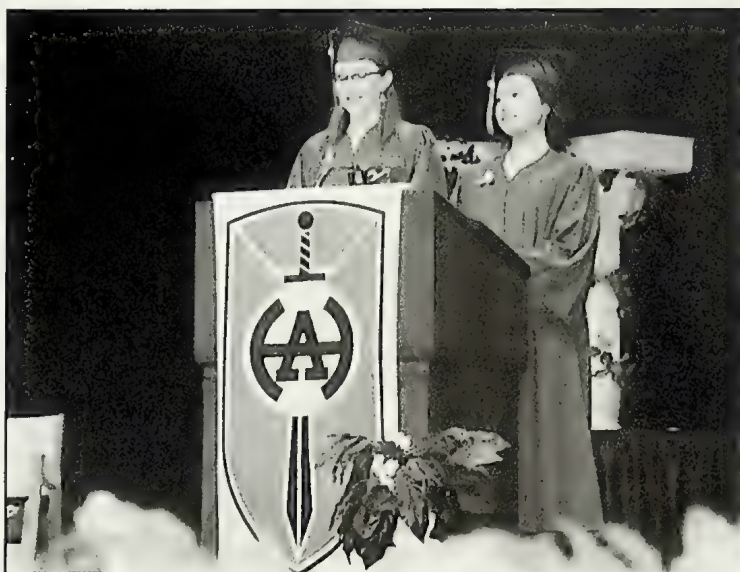

It has also helped you to develop the essential critical thinking, communication and co-operation skills you will need to succeed. I sincerely hope that you will draw on what you've learned throughout your education to make decisions that which will lead not only to success, but to true happiness.

I am confident that the young people here tonight – Harry's Ainlay's Class of 2003 – have what it takes to lead and live in the 21st century.

On behalf of the senior administration, I offer you my heartfelt congratulations for your great achievements here at Harry Ainlay. You also have my very best wishes for all the tomorrows you will make.

Thank you.

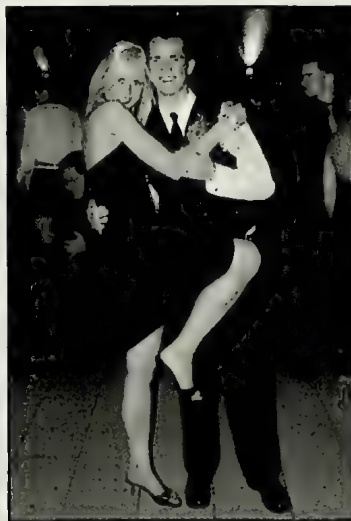

Marianne Loney and Tammy Bach, Commencement Co-Chairs

Haley McGibbon, Graduation Vice-President and Commencement M.C.

18-25. 2003- The end was finally in sight: Titans completed their final and diploma exams and then were finally home free, marking the end of another great year! Thanks, Ainlay!

January

13. 2003- Titans were welcomed back from Winter Break (and the Cold weather) with festive attire, limbo and a tiki bar at Aloha Ainlay.

FINAL THOUGHTS

ADVISOR'S NOTE

Another exciting Ainlay school year draws to a close. As yearbook advisor I have had the opportunity to meet many talented students, staff, players and performers at Ainlay and record their accomplishments for all to see. Ainlay is truly an amazing school that hums with daily activities and events. We have tried to capture this dynamic Titan spirit within these pages.

This year we had a team of four yearbook editors. These talented individuals spent collectively over 800 hours organizing, designing and coordinating all 208 pages. I am truly impressed with their dedication and commitment to the yearbook which is in addition to their full IB course load. I cannot thank them enough for the energy and spirit they have brought to the creation of this yearbook.

In addition to the editors a small army of 40 or so, students volunteered thousands of hours to take pictures, design pages and distribute yearbooks. Numerous staff members provided essential information needed by the yearbook members. Thanks to all of these people for making the Titan Tradition yearbook a success.

With yearbook in hand, we will be able to revisit the many wonderful memories of this school year throughout our lives.

As the last pages are shipped off, the sun is shining, the wind is blowing and I am going sailing. Bon Voyage - to all. Mr. Wright

Giovanna Baldoz, Vincky Sidhu, Anushka Jayasekara, and Indira Bosire
Back Row: Mr. Wright, Yearbook Advisor

EDITORS' NOTE

Indira "this year as an editor, I realise how much responsibility, commitment and fun is required... a great experience"

Giovanna "long hours into the evening, deadlines... merely spiced up the yearbook experience. What a year it was working with amazing people and of course my friends!... hope that this 208 page book was able to capture the great year it has been"

Vincky "an exuberating and worthwhile experience... I acquired many page-making skills ... a great bunch of people... lots of fun over the year and I hope our yearbook will be appreciated"

Anushka "tremendous honour working on the yearbook. What more can I ask for than to work alongside my best friends"

Thank you, Mr. Wright and everybody for the unforgettable memories!

Enjoy the 2002 - 2003 Yearbook!!

RETIRING STAFF

The staff and students wish a wonderful and fulfilling retirement to Ms. Fletcher (27 years teaching English at Ainlay), Mr. Gruenberg (25 yrs. teaching drafting and CTS at Ainlay), and Ms. Witt (3 yrs. as a support staff at Ainlay). Thank you for your excellent contributions.

MS. FLETCHER

MR. GRUENBERG

MS. WITT

MS. MCCABE

Ms. McCabe, is leaving Ainlay to become Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools in Edmonton. The staff and students will miss you, greatly. Thank you and all the best to you!
